Santa here Friday

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

The Granite City Press-Record has received word from a reliable source at the North Pole that Santa Claus is coming to town on Friday, and he will be very busy at several locations during the week and on the weekend right up until Christmas.

Santa, with a police escort, will come across the new overpass in downtown Granite City at 11 a.m. Friday, will travel on 19th Street to Madison Avenue, then left on Madison Avenue, stopping for a few minutes by St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he will waive to the children watching from the pediatric floor.

Santa's procession then will turn left, with the help of the police, onto Niedringhaus Avenue and will travel to State Street, taking State Street to 19th Street and 19th to Edison Avenue. The procession then will return to Niedringhaus Avenue, stopping at Civic Park to greet children waiting there. Santa then will return back to Delmar Avenue and take up residence at "Santa's Cabin" at 19th and Delmar.

Santa will also be at Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, Bellemore Village Shopping Center and in Madison.

A tentative outline of his activities at the various locations follows:

At Santa's Cabin, 19th Street and Edison Ave., he will be in the cabin on Fridays until 8 p.m. On Saturdays, Santa will be there from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. His weekday schedule at his downtown cabin will be from 5 p.m. until 9 p.m. Pictures taken with Santa will be offered for pictures.

Santa also has a house in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center and will be there on Friday until 9 p.m., where he will also be available for pictures.

Santa will be at the Crossroads house

Mondays through Fridays from 5 p.m. until 9 p.m., and from noon until 8 p.m. on Saturdays. At Crossroads, jolly old Santa is being assisted by Explorer Post 10-33.

Children also will be able to visit Santa at the Bellemore Village Shopping Center. He will be talking about from store to store, talking to the children and giving out candy from 5 p.m. until 5:30 p.m. daily.

At Bellemore from 6:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. Santa will be in the arcade for pictures with children and fans seven days a week.

Santa is being assisted in the Bellemore Shopping Center by Explorer Post 102.

The jolly man in red will be in Madison this Friday from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. and then every Saturday from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m., visiting children as he strolls from store to store.

New school tax loans

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

The Granite City School Board last night authorized additional tax anticipation warrants not to exceed $1,200,000 between now and Jan. 31.

Norman S. Owca, director of finance, reported that "we have paid off all past education fund tax anticipation warrants of $2,150,000 and part of the total building fund tax warrants in the amount of $230,000."

"We still have past outstanding building fund warrants of $125,000, plus $15,000 current for a total of $140,000. And we have current education tax warrants of $230,000 borrowed Nov. 13."

"Since the second half of the 1980 taxes (1980 is the tax year for collections in 1981) is not due until Dec. 1, we anticipate county real estate tax payments to us in the sum of $1,250,000 sometime in December or January, and the remainder from February until May 1982."

"Therefore, we still have a cash flow problem. Until collections are received and paid to us, we need board permission for tax anticipation warrants not to exceed $900,000 in the education fund and $300,000 in the building fund for Nov. 25 through Jan. 31."

The late timing and slow pace of property tax bills and receipts this year were cited as the chief factors in the need to borrow at this stage of the July 1981-June 1982 fiscal year.

In other business last night, the board:

—INTERVIEWED TWO candidates for a new position of assistant director of cafeteria. A hiring recommendation is to be made at the next board meeting Dec. 13.

—DELAIED HIRING two unit managers for the school cafeteria system until the impact of current food service innovations can be studied. Daily hot lunch sales to students have increased this fall by 1,200, from 3,500 a day in September to 4,700 now, reducing but not yet halting cafeteria financial deficits.

—DEFERRED BUYING electronic cash registers for elementary school cafeterias.

—CHOSE CURRICULUM as a major topic for several 1982 board meetings, including one in January.

—DISCUSSED DROPOUTS and asked that students' reasons be evaluated to aid the board's consideration of ways to reduce the number of teenagers failing to complete high school.

—PROMOTED ONE member of the staff at the administrative office building, Marcella Pilcher, to supervisor of accounting services; $1,000 was added to her present yearly pay, retroactive to July 1. She will continue to report to Finance Director O'wca.

—REVIEWED LEGAL and personnel matters in an executive session from (Continued on Page 4)

'Cooperation,' key to growth?

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

"If the government wants to play with the economy, let them 'try it first on a gameboard,'" Dr. Robert R. Blain, professor of sociology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, commented as he sent President Ronald Reagan a game board and instructions for the game "Cooperation, the Wealth of Nations Game."

Dr. Blain and a former graduate student at SIUE, Robert Gill, are marketing the new game, but Dr. Blain said the game actually had numerous inventors — his students during the past five years.

The game is being assembled by Specialized Services in Granite City and is being marketed at several local outlets.

Actually, "Cooperation" is four separate games which enable those playing to experiment with several types of economic systems, including bartering, capitalism and socialism. In one variation, the inflation of money is eliminated and hours worked is used as the standard for purchasing power. A house costs 2,000 hours of work, a car is 200 hours and a loaf of bread is priced at 30 seconds. Everyone puts in 40 hours a week at work.

In this variation, products and services would be priced according to the time taken to produce them and currency would be marked in seconds, minutes and hours. Benjamin Franklin had the same idea 200 years ago, but Dr. Blain has put it in a form where students, and the public, can experiment with it, on a game board.

The four different games included in "Cooperation" are "Barter," the beginner's game simulating a primitive economy with no medium of exchange, "Making Money," a contemporary American money standard game, "Majority Rule," a contemporary money standard with means of production collectively owned, and "Autonomy," a futuristic system in which purchase prices are based on hours worked to produce them and buying power is directly related to hours worked. Players of any of the four games can choose whether to compete among cities or to cooperate for the greatest wealth for the nation, as a whole.

Dr. Blain said that he believes (Continued on Page 4)

Council sticks with sales tax

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

According to Granite City attorneys, the city council has already "re-enacted" a second sales tax ordinance, making another court hearing necessary before the constitutionality of the new one percent ordinance can be determined.

City Attorney John Papa said yesterday that the new ordinance was created Nov. 17 when the original sales tax ordinance was amended.

Associate Judge Edward Ferguson's ruling Nov. 19 on the first ordinance ignored the question of the constitutionality of the Nov. 17 amendment, stating an amendment could not "cure" a defective ordinance.

Papa said the judge had either decided to rule on the original tax and ignore the amendment or did not understand the amendment had completely re-enacted the sales tax ordinance.

The amended sales tax ordinance could be effective as soon as it is published in pamphlet form. The council approved the publication of the pamphlets when the amendment was passed.

Judge Ferguson's order, declaring the Nov. 17 sales tax unconstitutional, had specifically not barred the city from passing a successful "re-enacted ordinance," if any such ordinance corrected constitutional defects in the original bill.

Slate said he hopes for a quick ruling on the amended tax, if it is challenged.

After Judge Ferguson's ruling Nov. 19, Bill Woodrume of Woodrume Olds Inc. had said he would "definitely go to court again" if the city passed another sales tax, in any form.

Woodrume, who pressed the court challenge along with Jack Mathews Chevrolet Co., said he considers any sales tax an occupation tax on retailers and would challenge any such added tax all the way to the state Supreme Court.

Aldermen chose not to discuss either version of the controversial sales tax ordinances on the council floor Tuesday, voting to go into executive session late in the evening last night to discuss the matter with Papa and Slate.

After the council meeting, Mayor Paul Schuler said sales tax funds previously collected by merchants, under the first sales tax ordinance, should be returned to customers if possible.

Schuler said he had earlier advised consumers to keep cash register receipts when the sales tax ordinance was approved, in case it was found to be in violation of the state constitution.

Alton is added to Cong. Price's area

The district served by Congressman Melvin Price (D, Belleville, who formerly represented Granite City and the Quad-City area in the state legislature.

Simon, winner of a close race against the tide of the Reagan landslide election of 1980, may be in a much better position in 1982 as the 24th becomes the 22nd District. The northeastern area of Simon's territory has been detached, also joining his prospects.

The new 21st will have more partisan balance than the heavily-Democratic 23rd, political authorities commented this week, but Price is seen as having no problem winning a 20th consecutive two-year term.

Essentially, a successor to Price will be the closest Madison County. Within the 23rd District's boundaries, it had seemed more likely that the successor would be from St. Clair.

Cong. Findley's new district, the 20th, will extend eastward to Decatur and could make his re-election effort somewhat more difficult. He may be opposed by State Sen. Vince Demulio (D).

City may prohibit unsolicited papers

An "anti-litter" ordinance prohibiting the throwing of unsolicited newspapers into yards in Granite City was placed on first reading by the city council last night and is expected to be brought up for final passage next Tuesday night.

The ordinance, if adopted, would prohibit the throwing of free newspapers and other advertising materials in any yard, unless the resident of that property agrees in writing to allow that advertising material to be left there.

Primarily affected by the ordinance would be the two "throw-away" newspapers here, the Granite City Journal, published by the Donnelly Suburban Newspaper Group, and the Weekender, published by the Press-Record.

Press-Record General Manager Paul Halbert said this morning that every effort will be made to comply with the city's guidelines. "Publication of the Weekender will cease immediately. Our apologies to the advertisers who have found the Weekender a useful tool, but we want to assist the city in any way possible to reducing the litter problem."

Publication of the Weekender had already been suspended this week, due to the holiday.

Dan Donnelly, president and publisher of the Granite City Journal, said this morning that he was unaware of the council's actions last night and had no comment on the pending ordinance.

The council passed the first reading of the ordinance 13-0 with final passage possible next Tuesday. Alderman Paul Bowler of the Seventh Ward was not present.

Alderman Pat Schuman of the Second Ward told aldermen he was requested to presented the ordinance due to complaints concerning the distribution of the Granite City Journal.

Schuman said residents had objected to a litter problem caused when papers accumulated in yards and in the streets.

Schuman asked the alderman to "vote your conscience" on the proposed ordinance. The ordinance excludes non-profit organizations.

The penalty for violation of the anti-litter ordinance is a $5 to $25 dollar fine for each offense, and each delivery is counted as a separate offense.

In other business, the council voted to suspend its rules and approved on final passage three traffic control ordinances.

Aldermen voted to prohibit parking from 7 to 9 a.m. Mondays through Fridays on the south side of Amos Avenue from its intersection with Franklin Avenue to its intersection with Johnson Road.

The ordinance is intended to stop residents who commute to St. Louis from leaving their cars parked in front of neighborhood homes.

The second ordinance would make it unlawful for any car to be parked

School board members don't receive pay for their work and a large majority don't want to.

Board members from 659 Illinois school districts voted Saturday to not even consider the idea. They were meeting in Chicago during the three-day annual conference of the Illinois Association of School Boards (IASB). The meeting ended Monday.

In all, Illinois school boards expressed their views on nearly 30 policy issues from taxation to physical education and drug abuse.

"It was pretty obvious that the voting delegates considered school board work a form of public service," noted Harold P. Seamon, IASB executive director. "The average board member puts in 400 to 500 hours a year, but there was almost no support for the proposal to pursue any kind of pay."

In all, nearly 7,000 school board members and administrators took part in the educational conference that concluded at noon Monday with an address by Adlai E. Stevenson III, the probable Democratic nominee for governor.

In addition to the Saturday vote on association policy positions, the conference provided clinics on more than 40 school-management topics, plus workshops on collective bargaining, policy development and communications, and dozens of other opportunities to acquire new ideas and information.

One of the best-attended sessions was a series of four clinics for those board members who were first elected earlier this month. An estimated 500 new board members took part in the special sessions on basic school board laws and procedures.

Along with rejecting the idea of a salary, voting delegates also instructed their association to develop a program "to encourage talented young people of this state to pursue teaching as a career."

The resolution was introduced with the explanation that boards must "work to counter the unfavorable publicity being directed against teachers. Boards have a responsibility to recruit the best talent available to staff their educational programs."

Seamon said, "There is a growing fear that negative publicity about schools and teacher groups is discouraging talented young people from becoming teachers."

"Yet, we know that teaching can be a satisfying and rewarding career. School boards want to make that fact known to more people."

Delegates also gave strong approval to resolutions asking the General Assembly for the authority to:

—Charge fees to help offset the high cost of behind-the-wheel driver education.

—Meet in private to set the selling price or rental fee for unneeded buildings or land.

"School boards believe they cannot get the best possible price for an unused building when they have to set the minimum acceptable price in a public meeting," Seamon said.

He noted that the Illinois Open Meetings Act permits boards to discuss purchase of property in closed meetings, but the sale of property must be discussed in public.

Other major speakers during the weekend conference included State Superintendent of Education Donald Gill and keynote Anne Barkley, public relations director for Munsingwear, Inc., of Minneapolis.

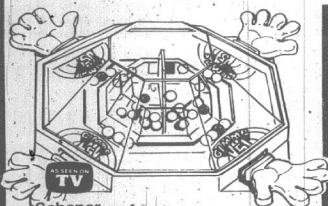

Motivational speaker Zig Ziglar spoke at a dinner meeting Sunday evening.

"This conference has two major purposes," Seamon said. "The primary purpose is to send board members and administrators home with more knowledge about their jobs and information they can use to help their schools."

"The second purpose is to find out what boards think they need from their association and from the state and federal governments, and to establish what Illinois school boards stand for."

Computer saves food, money at medical center

Perhaps there is some good news regarding inflation, after all. Because of the shrinking value of the dollar, a lot of people have started thinking about ways to manage time, money or materials more efficiently. These things probably should have been considered all along, but it has taken the pressure of inflation to provide the impetus for these measures.

Out of this have come some useful solutions to the problems of waste and inefficiency. One example is the Medfare Electro Tally system that has recently been put into use in the food service department at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The Electro Tally is a computer that "reads" the selections patients have marked on their daily menus. It can process 400 menus in 10 minutes, printing out an accurate total of food quantities that are needed for the next day's preparation. This job would ordinarily take two people four hours each to complete.

Of course, patient admissions or discharges and changes in diet instructions can alter these tallies before serving time, resulting in shortages of some foods and too much of others. But, because the Electro Tally computer can work so quickly, update information can be processed through it just before serving time.

Food quantities can be adjusted or substitutions made without guesswork or delay in preparing meal trays. This saves time for food service workers, reduces the amount of food waste and assures greater satisfaction for patients.

What does this mean in terms of dollars and cents? According to Medfare, Inc., manufacturers of the Electro Tally system, a 400-bed facility can expect to save $200 a day, or $73,000 a year. For St. Elizabeth Medical Center, the system provides at least some relief in the battle with inflation.

Abused girl, 14, needs foster care

(Department of Children and Family Services)

Although she is a victim of child abuse, fourteen-year-old Jo Anne, a ward of the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, frequently blames herself for the fact that she must live away from her parents' home.

Described by her social worker as quiet and cooperative, this small, dark-haired white girl attends school willingly and enjoys cooking and sewing in her spare time.

While she is considered to be a good candidate for foster care because of her cooperative attitude, DCFS social workers feel that Jo Anne would do best if placed with a foster family able to give her a great deal of attention. This might help her understand that she is not responsible and cannot be blamed for the abuse she suffered.

Although a two-parent foster family is preferred for many foster children, particularly younger ones, a single parent able to set and maintain reasonable rules would be strongly considered for Jo Anne.

All department foster parents are thoroughly oriented and trained. After submitting references, undergoing a criminal background check, having interviews with department social workers and submitting medical information, new foster parents are ready to attend training services and to accept children.

Traditional foster parents receive a board fee ranging from $171 per month for an infant to $212 per month for a teenager. They may turn down any child referred to them for placement.

Additional special fees are also available as needed. And all medical, dental and pharmaceutical expenses for foster children are paid by the state.

Professional foster parents who accept children with more behavior problems are paid a maximum of $1,044 per month for two teens.

Area residents interested in providing a home for Jo Anne or in learning more about the department's foster home program may call Shirley Faber at 876-6885.

READOUT IN MINUTES. The new Electro Tally computer at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, which scans patients' meal cards and computes how much of each food item will have to be prepared for that meal, is saving the medical center an estimated $200 a day to avoid wasting food and manhours formerly used to do the calculations. Adele Balcer of the food service department at St. Elizabeth, left, accepts the readout from the computer as Mel Rahm, vice-president of Medfare, Inc., manufacturer of the computer, watches.

118 justice graduates employed as police

One-hundred and eighteen graduates of the Belleville Area College Administration of Justice program are working as police officers and sheriff's deputies in this region, according to a survey taken by the program's faculty.

The survey also showed that the associate degree is gaining importance in the law enforcement field. Police departments in Cahokia, Fairview Heights and O'Fallon require the degree. In the near future, it will be required in Columbia, Highland, Red Bud and Washington Park.

The job market for the A.O.J. graduate was shown to be substantial by the survey, with a predicted 122 job openings in the area over the next three years.

BAC is able to direct many of its graduates to these jobs, as it is usually notified about area openings.

In addition to this, BAC also receives monthly bulletins on job listings across the nation in law enforcement, security, corrections, juvenile and court services.

These lists are made available to A.O.J. graduates. Those wanting to learn more about the A.O.J. program at BAC may call William Allen, Harold Johnson or William Burns at 235-2700, extensions 263, 265 or 332.

The 626 who signed up for classes represent more than half the total number who registered by phone during the 15 days of registration for the fall term, Registrar John Sylvester said.

One reason telephone registrations have increased is that students for the first time can enroll in general studies courses offered at the college's extension centers, including Madison High School, Granite City High School, South and Washington School, by calling 235-7900.

Telephone registration will continue through Dec. 4. In-person registration runs through Jan. 13, 1982, at the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

House burns and is burglarized

Darmon "Duke" Broyles, 51, of 3125 Rapp Road, had a new house he bought about four months ago catch fire, in addition to being burglarized last week, according to the Madison County Sheriff's department.

The fire took place at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, in the area known as "lank town" while Broyles was in his tavern, Dukes Club 60 in Madison. Broyles, when notified at his tavern of the fire by sheriff's deputies, checked the house and discovered a 25-inch color television was missing from his living room, a microwave oven had been taken, and a ceramic lamp also was gone.

Neighbors told firemen, sheriff's deputies and Broyles that they heard the sound of tires and a white and light blue auto leave the area of Broyles home at a high rate of speed.

The cause of the fire and the extent of damage have not been determined, although the southwest portion of the house was severely damaged.

An arson investigation is underway and a theory that the house may have been set on fire to cover evidence of the burglary is being investigated.

James Stuart Chapter initiates

New members of the James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay were initiated in ceremonies conducted at the Ainald Temple in East St. Louis.

Those taking the degree of initiation included John P. Donjoian, Timothy R. Mizell, R. Tracey Stallard, R. Todd Stallard, Jeff Chaboude, James Yount, and Michael Antonovich Jr. They were introduced individually and welcomed at the chapter's regular meeting at the Masonic Temple by Pat Gibbons, master councilor.

During the session a review of the District 16 meeting held in Highland was discussed. The local chapter received a first place trophy for the district softball and bowling events. The bowling team also competed on Sunday at Farm and Country Lanes in Springfield, for the state championship.

Those who attended the Highland meeting were Dave Medley, Neal Mize, Antonio Narvaez, Keith Payne, Terry Perrin, Jim Porter, Morris Ricketts, Jerry Singleton, Steve Smith, Todd Stallard, Tracey Stallard, Jimmy Stuart, and Fred Trebing.

Also advisors, Charles Meyer, Charles Mize and Jimmy E. Stuart, Mother's Club members present were Mrs. Jo Meyer, Mrs. Charlotte Mize, Mrs. Mary Stuart and Mrs. Verna Stuart.

It was announced the DeMolay members gave the nine o'clock intercession at New Hope Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star installation held Monday evening. They also will give the ritual at Granite Chapter 850, OES, installation on Monday and at the Job's Daughters installation set for Dec. 5.

Chapter members were reminded to bring petitions for new members to the Dec. 1 session so that those accepted for membership can receive their degrees on Dec. 10 at a meeting to be held in Jerseyville, Ill.

In closing, the master councilor expressed the hope that enough petitions will be accepted to make 200 percent of their membership goal of 16 for 1981.

Break-in at dental lab

A burglary at the Granite City Dental Lab, 1924 State St., reported Monday by Bill Dimitroff, netted the thieves a bag bag containing two checks, a book of checks, a screwdriver, an unknown amount of petty cash and change from a soft drink machine.

The front door to the firm had been pried open and desk drawers were forced in two offices. An attempt also was made to pry the vending machine.

many of those who play the various games will come to the conclusion that the economy based on hours, rather than dollars, is a workable economy. The incentive for going to college or having advanced training would be to get the kind of job one wanted. There would be keen competition for the better jobs.

If the whole idea seems socialist, Dr. Blain takes exception. He said the system would be consistent with capitalism. Manufacturing would remain in private hands, but if one loaf of bread cost 60 seconds and another cost 30 seconds, consumers would likely buy the cheaper loaf, forcing the other baker to streamline his production time in order to compete.

While it seems clear the Reagan administration is now ready to undertake such drastic changes; it would do the president and his advisors good to experiment with the economy in some way which will not destroy the country. Therefore, copies of the game have been sent to the president, House Speaker Tip O'Neill, U.S. Congressman Paul Simon and U.S. Sen. Edward tax would amount to about $60,000. Papa said the judge chose not to rule on the sale of these funds.

'Cooperation'

Kennedy. "These are people I hope will be sympathetic," Dr. Blain said. "I think we are in tremendous trouble, nationally, and we are going to have to try something new," he contended. In 54 of the last 68 years, the country has had inflation. For 185 years, inflation has been growing at the rate of about one-half percent per month, Dr. Blain says, displaying a chart showing rapidly growing inflation and a similar upward "curve" of national debt.

The national debt of which he speaks is not the amount the government has borrowed. It is the amount everyone in the country has borrowed, federal, state and local government, business, consumer loans, home mortgages, credit cards and other borrowing. The amounts are astronomical and his charts predict a rapid upward turn.

"Something very basic in the economy is bringing this about. It is going out of control and this is true in every category, including corporations. Some of the best-known corporations in the country are on the verge of bankruptcy and the system requires that they increase their productivity, through modern equipment, pollution controls and other factors.

Dr. Blain does not believe he has all the answers to the nation's economic problems, but said he believes that he, and his students, have come to better understand the problems and some of the possible solutions through playing and refining "Cooperation."

It is a game in which everybody wins, if it is played cooperatively. When played competitively — city against city — some of today's problems become clearer.

From two to six players can become "educated" through playing the game at one time. Players interested in "toying with the economy" can purchase the game at Brouse-Bell's Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center or Mini-Mall Hobbies in the mini mall.

The price is about one hour (or $12.50, depending upon which economic system one may be on).

following the suggestion by Papa that the entire language of the prior sales tax be incorporated in the amended sales tax.

At that time, Papa told council members that the amended version "might make the difference" if a court ruling found the tax unconstitutional. The Granite City Council will hold a special meeting at 6 p.m. Tuesday at city hall to discuss its financial position.

Statement by Simpson

By accident, Mike Manning, candidate for state senator, was credited with Monday's Press-Record with a statement which actually was made by Peter Simpson, an employee of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Manning charged that Simpson used time for which he was being paid by the university to write press releases for Manning's opponent, Sen. Sam Vadablene.

SUUE investigated and concluded that the only university time Simpson spent for Vadablene was when he granted an interview to a journalism student of the university during which questions about Vadablene were asked. President Earl Lazerson of SUUE concluded that he found no wrong-doing on the part of Simpson and notified Manning by letter of his findings.

Simpson told one reporter at the Press-Record that he was glad that the matter was investigated and added, "I feel that the matter is closed." The quote was passed on to another reporter, who wrote the article, but believed that the quote was from Manning.

Manning said yesterday that he believes the investigation served to warn SUUE officials that they must be accountable to the people for their paid hours.

He displayed documents indicating that Simpson has admitted he was mistaken when said Manning had once used poor mental health as a defense, in a libel suit. There had never been such a suit, but one was contemplated, documents attributed to Simpson indicated.

Simpson said his statements to a SUUE journalism student about Manning were meant only for background, not to be used in print against Manning.

Maryville Road will be blacktopped this spring

Maryville Road — marked by potholes — will be blacktopped next spring, Mayor Paul Schuler told aldermen at their Nov. 19 meeting.

Schuler said he was recently informed of the decision by Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer. The entire length of the road is scheduled for blacktopping as "soon as the winter weather breaks," the mayor said.

He made his announcement after Alderman MacWarfield of the Sixth Ward said he is concerned about the condition of the road with "winter coming against Schuler said the county has accepted responsibility for the deteriorating road, but that the work "cannot be done now" because it is too late in the season.

Operations have already begun to temporarily fill in the holes before the county starts the roadwork next spring.

Superintendent of Streets Lionel Portell told aldermen. Alderman Warren Decatur of the Fourth Ward asked about the primary cause of the "defective road," and inquired about tests which were to be conducted to determine "responsibility" for the continuing problems.

"Seems like everybody is dodging the issue," Decatur said. City Engineer Monroe Brewer said extensive testing had been carried out on the road, revealing that a clay material used in the surface expands when wet, causing the rough pavement conditions. Brewer said an uncertainty still exists over who should accept responsibility for presence of the clay material.

The council approved a motion by Warfield for City Attorney John Papa to formally request that county releases for Manning's opponent, Sen. Sam Vadablene.

The council also informed by Portell during the same meeting and aldermen committee discussion that the city's street sweeper is, once again, out of order. The council had approved up to $600 for essential transmission repairs to the sweeper on Oct. 15. The sweeper will remain disabled while the matter is considered by the committee.

Two charged in Madison

Odin Grady Venable, 29, 2903 Kirkpatrick Homes, is being held by Madison police pending the posting of $6,000 cash bond on charges of battery and unlawful possession of a controlled substance. Janet Elizabeth Womack, 27, of 2903 Kirkpatrick Homes pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. She was fined $70.

Both appeared in court Tuesday morning.

The pair were arrested at Eighth Street and Madison Avenue at 11:55 p.m. Sunday, after police received a complaint on the two from a citizen.

Venable allegedly struck Madison Police Sgt. Norris Horton while being charged at the Madison police station.

During the booking process, police allegedly found more than 10 grams, but less than 30 grams, of what they believe is marijuana in his possession.

The pair allegedly became very abusive when stopped for questioning.

More sewer funds released

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

The Madison County Special Sewer District has moved a step closer to getting its finances into balance, officials said after exploring various prospects Monday at Springfield with the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The EPA said it is releasing $150,000 immediately to the district, to complete 95 percent disbursement of the grant that was used to construct the Quad-City area sanitary sewer system. The sewers have been in use for the past year.

The $150,000 payment results from an increase in the basic grant, taking into account pumps, radio, and equipment and the office facility, Madison County Auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields said yesterday.

Another $300,000 to $450,000 may be forwarded to the sewer district in four to six weeks, increasing the amount disbursed by the state to 97 or 98 percent of the total.

The district has not been collecting as much money as originally projected and has had to borrow from other county governmental funds.

The remaining two or three percent of the sewer grant, between 97 or 98 and 100 percent, is likely to be forwarded here during the early months of 1982, Monday's detailed discussion with EPA officials brought out.

Immediate steps are being taken by the district this week and next week to replace bolts missing from some manholes, to restore grout that has peeled away, and to carry out other needed work that was pinpointed in an EPA inspection of the sewer system.

The tasks were described as relatively minor in comparison to the overall scope of the sewer project. Some of the requirements cited in the inspection report already have been met, such as repairing or replacing inoperative alarm.

A letter is to be sent by early December telling what improvements have been made and committing the district to complete any other specified work not yet finished. This letter is expected to trigger release of the $300,000 to $450,000 allocation, Fields said.

The letter also will serve as a request for a final audit. The audit could lead to 100 percent payment within several months, the local delegation was told.

Those participating in this week's conference, at the EPA office on Churchill Road in Springfield, included: Assistant State's Attorney Marshall H. "Zeke" Smith, legal adviser to the Madison County Board; Morris Miles, chairman of the County Board's special sewer committee; Mrs. Mary Kane, county director of administration; Gene Futch, superintendent of the sewer district; Edward J. Jurek, one of his associates, representing Jurek Associates, the engineers who designed the sanitary sewers, and Auditor Fields.

In another development this week, Smith wrote Futch a letter (dated Nov. 23) enclosing "a copy of the state statute which allows us to disconnect 1 1/2 percent of our total area."

"Before I prepare a petition for the people to sign in the area where we abated the tax, I believe we need to discuss with our engineer and the committee what other areas should be added," McMahon said. "I recall I recall. "No doubt this will stir up some of a hubbub, I guess. No doubt we'll receive a lot of requests."

"We will have to look at the merits of each and, hopefully, get it done before next year's assessment, when the property taxes take effect."

Public Act 80-519 authorizes procedures for disconnection of territory from special service areas such as the sanitary sewer district. The reason for current disconnection procedures is that some lots are not being provided with sewer service.

Another Nov. 23 letter from Smith was directed to Pat Morrison of the county's data processing department. The attorney said, "I have a list of 458 people who are delinquent for a total of $8,467 as of Nov. 12, 1981. We need to see these people, and I am wondering if there is a way we could have Data Processing throw out (produce) the small claims complaint. If we put a girl on that, she would be typing three weeks."

I enclose a copy of our small claims complaint form. For each person on there the names of the owners and the amount that is due. We can just file all of them in the circuit clerk's office and ask the clerk to have some court judges set down about two days for the hearing as promptly as possible.

Also, I understand that we don't have the print-out of the sewer system and are not hooked on (to the sewer system).

On them, I would also like to avail ourselves of your services if possible, to have your equipment print out the criminal complaints," Smith concluded.

Prior to Monday's visit to Springfield, Auditor Fields commented, "We want to impress on them the financial burden placed on us and our vendors by state retention of the remaining 98 percent."

"We owe money to the working cash fund, the special tax fund, our suppliers and the contractor, S. M. Wilson & Co. It makes it tough to do business when you can't pay your vendors."

"The project has been completed for virtually a year, but the EPA has felt it could not release the money. There are a few small problems left, but nothing that would warrant holding up all this money."

Mrs. Kane said, "One of the difficulties was that, until Nov. 17, the EPA hadn't provided us with their report. They couldn't release money until that was done and we couldn't apply for the retainage until the report was forwarded to us."

"They inspected the sewers from Aug. 28 until Sept. 21, but through mid-November we had received nothing from them."

Robert Schueger, regional manager of the Illinois EPA water pollution control division, said in the report there were deficiencies involving nearly half of the 50 lift stations in the sanitary system. About 30 percent of the manholes had problems, he added.

Also cited was possible infiltration of the system. And it was found that, apparently due to a design defect in Lift Station 3, there was no way to measure the volume of sewage pumped to the Granite City regional sewage treatment plant for primary and secondary treatment.

With the county government, like many other taxing bodies, having difficulty balancing its income with its expenditures, county fiscal officials have been intent on putting the sewer system on a more self-sufficient basis.

Taking into account the sewer construction grant, and the property taxes levied on the district, the project is intended to be paid for by the people it serves, not by the entire county.

Proponents of the sewer program assert that, ultimately, there will have been no net cost of any kind to the county. But some officials, and residents of other sections of the county, are complaining that—during the start-up period—the sewer system has become a worry and a financial burden.

The transition from advance planning to actual operation of the system was complicated by the unexpected death of the attorney and by the election defeat of former sewer committee chairman Walter "Doc" Sparks.

Delays threw the income timetable behind schedule. And the economic recession and curbs on residential construction limited the base of sewer users to a smaller number than had been expected.

Residents of the special service area were given until Nov. 15 to connect onto the system. More than 3,100 homes have been connected.

The current monthly service and maintenance charge per household is $15.80, not counting the annual real estate taxes that are paid to retire the construction bond issue.

Smith said last week that until receiving the inspection report, the sewer committee had been unaware of any problems with the system other than two involving disputed easements.

In the Brandon Heights subdivision, the county had filed condemnation suits but then apparently installed sewers elsewhere than in the condemned land.

And Robert Zaring, a home owner on Angela Drive in Nameoki Township, contended that the sewer was not installed in his easement, Smith said.

Schueger's dissatisfaction with the project has included pending change of generator equipment, building and communications equipment.

He also has criticized lift station electrical controls that were supposed to allow pumps to alternate, but did not. The manufacturer has acknowledged this and has been replacing the units, the EPA representative said.

Schueger commented that several manholes had cracked threaded frame lugs. Others have missing lid bolts, and some manholes have bolt holes that are not properly aligned.

He said, "With such defects, the system could not be water tight. But the county paid more in order to obtain equipment that would be water tight."

"It is important that the system be water tight to keep inflow and infiltration to a minimum," he concluded.

Those at the meeting said it is anticipated that the remedial work agreed upon Monday will meet all of the state agency's objections.

Debate parking meters' future

The spirit of the Christmas season may be extended several months in the downtown area if Chamber of Commerce members and Granite City aldermen agree on an experimental six-month parking meter fee moratorium.

Courtesy bags—traditionally placed on the meters as a convenience to holiday shoppers—may remain for several months on a temporary basis to determine how cooperative merchants, clerks and the residents are before meters are permanently removed.

"This gives us the time to run we're looking for," said Alderman Jake Varadjan of the Fifth Ward at a downtown merchants Chamber of Commerce meeting Friday.

Ron Zuckerman of Feder Furniture, who had been president of the Downtown, Iowa, committee to eliminate parking meters, outlined a three-step plan to be implemented if followed before meters can be successfully eliminated.

He called for a two-hour parking limit within a 600-foot distance to prevent "musical cars," a merchants' committee responsible for determining if each downtown worker has an off-street parking space, and for the enforcement by merchants of the parking regulations.

"Merchants can't police," they can call the police," said Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward.

Both Whitmer and Varadjan, members of Mayor Paul Schuler's downtown parking meter committee with member Alderman Sharon Perjak of the Fourth Ward, listened to the downtown merchants call parking problems the "biggest complaint" they get from their customers.

Apparently some merchants simply choose to pay any tickets, neutralizing patron anger; other merchants incur the shoppers' wrath and say they have lost customers. Thelma Pyles of Libson Shop said the meters make some shoppers "furious."

Ten merchants at the meeting voted for the immediate removal of the meters. "If meters go out, they are gone," Whitmer said. "In my opinion that's the final."

A prime consideration for most merchants was the insurance they said a two-hour parking limit provides against accidents. Alderman Perjak, however, told the businessmen that two-hour parking would have to go out with the meters.

"That leaves no recourse for merchants," said James DeRuntz, who has already led a petition drive for removal of the meters. DeRuntz and other merchants collected more than 100 signatures.

Alderman Whitmer said that "meter maids" could be hired for less expense than a patrolman, but he said such attempts in the past resulted in police opposition.

Others merchants said larger fines for parking offenders might be able to balance a cut in police supervision and raise funds for some additional police rounds.

Zuckerman said employees ruined Davenport's attempt at removing parking meters, but he said Granite City has a smaller area for merchants to patrol. He said Davenport's attempts fell apart in less than a year.

Two-hour parking is not only necessary, but it must be heavily enforced," Zuckerman said. "He (a policeman) has to be there every two hours."

Mrs. Perjak and Varadjan had both favored removal of the meters. Varadjan said he has received several phone calls from his ward backing meter removal. Mrs. Perjak said she had asked the council to remove the meters after Whitmer made a motion that minimum parking fees be raised to a nickel.

Since meeting with merchants, she realized they also could have difficulties without the meters, but she said she thinks the city is losing money by continuing meter operations.

Varadjan contended that a lot of people leave their cars downtown when they take the bus to St. Louis. Judy Stille of Tops 'N' Bottoms Shop agreed that commuters cause some problems.

"We realize you have a problem...don't feel it's our (city's) problem," Mrs. Perjak told the merchants. "You have to do your part."

Doing their part will probably mean downtown employees will have to walk

Santa's Breakfast Saturday, Dec. 5

The annual Santa's Breakfast, sponsored by the Granite City Junior Service Club, will be held on Saturday, Dec. 5, at the Granite City Township Hall to begin at 9 a.m.

Final arrangements for the fund raising project were discussed at the November meeting. Mrs. Brenda Weckman, president, announced tickets costing $1.75 are still available from club members and they will not be sold at the door. Pictures with Santa will be taken at a cost of $1.75, she added.

Speakers for the evening were Mike and Janet Cerney from the Nautilus Health Club.

Honorees for the Thanksgiving dinner were Sarah Repp, Kathy Mitchell and Paula Weaver, the president noted.

Plans were also discussed for distributing Thanksgiving baskets in the homes of Mrs. Mitchell, Joan Wachter and Peggy Willard were appointed to serve as chairmen of the affair.

Mrs. Gail Miotky reported on two cases where underprivileged children were in need of eye care. Also, Mrs. Donna Price informed the group they should still collect Schnucks cash register receipts until January, to be eligible for prizes.

The traveling apron, an interclub project, was given to Pam Reed. Mrs. Weckman announced the annual Christmas dinner party will be held on Dec. 14 at Stewart Anderson's Cattle Co., in St. Louis. Mrs. Miotky, Donna Padwick and Joyce Curran will be in charge.

Unique gift idea. Give education

Looking for a gift that will fit into a stocking? Look no longer. Give the gift of learning, educators are suggesting.

Gift certificates available through the Office of Continuing Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will permit the recipient to participate in a host of non-credit learning activities, ranging from acquiring skills in a new language to learning more about a favorite subject, craft or skill.

According to Lynn Dietrich, coordinator in the Office of Continuing Education, it's a gift that is guaranteed to suit the person to whom it is given because he has the opportunity to choose the learning experience.

And if the certificate is used to obtain an Educard, there is practically no limit to the number of classes a recipient can enjoy. Educard is a special community service designed to permit people of all ages and backgrounds to sit in on selected regular academic classes, on a non-credit basis. The cost of an Educard is only $15.

A LASTING GIFT. Helen Wiemer, left, a receptionist in the Office of Continuing Education at SIUE discusses classes available to students receiving a "gift of learning," a gift certificate toward participation in any of the Office of Continuing Education's non-credit skills, crafts or informational classes or workshops. With her are Mildred Moran of Edwardsville, a retired school teacher, and her daughter, Mary Bouba of Worden. Mrs. Bouba had just purchased a $15 gift certificate for an Educard, entitling her to sit in on selected academic classes at SIUE.

In addition to the Educard program, the certificates can be used toward participation in any of the university's non-credit skills, crafts, and informational workshops or classes. However, the best thing about them all, is possible their cost. Certificates can be purchased in increments of $5, allowing the giver to make his gift as large or as small as his pocketbook will permit. Christmas is not the only season or reason to purchase gift certificates of learning. Mrs. Dietrich said. They will be available throughout the year for birthday and anniversary occasions, as well as other times when someone wants to give a very special gift. Additional information concerning giving the gift of learning is available from the SIUE Office of Continuing Education at 1-892-3219.

JAZZ IMPROVISATION CLINIC ON DEC. 7

Jamie Abersold, a nationally-acclaimed clinician, publisher and performing artist, will conduct a jazz improvisation clinic at SIUE, Monday, Dec. 7, from 2 to 6 p.m. in the Communication Building theater. There will be a lecture, demonstration and participation for all students, educators and musicians interested in improving or learning new improvisational skills and techniques. If possible, participants are to take instruments to the clinic.

THETA XI PLEDGE

John Rushing, son of Mrs. Dorothy Rushing, 2117 Manley Ave., Granite City, has been accepted into the fall pledge class of Theta Xi at Bradley University in Peoria. He is a freshman majoring in the academic exploration program at the university.

MISSILE TRAINING

FOR BART DOUGLAS Airman First Class Bart M. Douglas, son of Mrs. Helen L. Powderly of 3010 Pershing, Granite City, has been assigned to Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., after completing six-week Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the missile and electronics field. He is a 1976 graduate of Granite City High School South.

Chapter plans for Christmas bazaar

Nu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi fund projects will include a Christmas Bazaar at the Nameeki Recreation Center on Saturday, Nov. 28. The chapter will sponsor visits with Santa Claus, with the prices remaining the same as last year, $7.50 for up to five children, $10 for five or more and $15 for groups. The annual Christmas party will be held at Amvets Post 51 on Dec. 19. Those attending a meeting hosted by Cheryl Barton were Debbie Brown, Rhonda Dooley, Marcie Johnson, Betty Thomas and Pam Myers.

Nu Zeta earlier met in the home of Lesma Mackel. An author and lecturer, Clark Johnston, gave a slide presentation on "Continuum (Life After Death)," with a question and answer period following his program.

Johnston explained the beliefs of man prior to Christianity, told how astrology evolved, and discussed various theories on Continuum.

Attending were Debbie Brown, Rhonda Dooley, Kathy House, Pam Myers, Cheryl Barton, Carol Moerlen, Don Macdonald, Johanna Kacera, Betty Miles, Betty Thomas, Jeannie Woods, Harry Brandt and Ellen Watt.

Professionals and managers' rights of 'knowledge workers'

(This is the fourth in a series of 15 articles exploring "Working: Choices and Challenges." In this article, David W. Ewing of the "Harvard Business Review" discusses the impact of highly educated workers in bringing civil liberties to the workplace. Copyright (c) 1981 by the Regents of the University of California.)

By DAVID W. EWING
Corporations and public agencies are currently undergoing a "revolution." Even more dramatic than the changes being created by new technologies—robots, office computers, and the like—are changes that are altering the happiness, hopes, and attitudes of millions of workers by giving them new rights on the job.

The agent of change in this revolution is an army of "knowledge workers" and highly educated managers and professionals ranging from computer experts to personnel administrators.

Not only are such workers new on the corporate scene, but their numbers and influence are growing so rapidly that one might even say they are invading the corporate workplace.

At the turn of the century, many giant corporations, such as Standard Oil, were led by men who were short on formal education.

But today, knowledge workers hold almost 30 percent of the jobs at Exxon—Standard Oil's corporate descendant—and many thousands of other companies and public agencies, big and small, depend on growing cadres of such workers.

RISE OF THE PROFESSIONALS.
The statistics hint at the extent of the change. For example, in 1940 only about one employee in 22 was a college graduate. Today, it is about one in every four. White-collar workers, a majority of whom are college graduates, have also proliferated. Since 1960, white-collar ranks have increased 72 percent, from 28.5 million to 49 million.

By contrast, blue-collar workers—once a majority in labor's ranks—increased only 30 percent, from 24 million to 31.2 million.

Spearheading this invasion of knowledge workers is what the census calls "professional and technical" workers, whose numbers more than doubled between 1960 and 1980.

Such groups as computer specialists, accountants, personnel administrators, quality control experts, and social scientists led the advance.

CHANGING THE NATURE OF WORK.
The real story, however, is not in their numbers but in the qualitative impact of knowledge workers on working conditions.

First, they are rationalizing more of the work of the corporation and public agency; they gather facts, analyze data, and reason to an extent unknown to their predecessors.

According to Alan C. Nixon, former president of the American Chemical Society, about half of the U.S. labor force is involved in creating, manipulating, or using information, or working with technologies based on data manipulation.

Second, knowledge workers exploit new technologies. It is a neat trick to invent a more powerful computer or more sophisticated drilling rig.

But it is an even neater trick—as scores of other countries that have failed in this respect know too well—to educate and train employees to make full use of that computer or rig.

In terms of the quality of work life, especially the sense of excitement and reward one gains during working hours, knowledge workers have had a still more significant influence.

It is because of them, more than any other employee group, that thousands of companies and agencies have liberalized decision-making.

This involves taking many day-to-day decisions out of the hands of a few leaders and distributing responsibility.

ability among trained employees down the line. Using statistical analysis, a factory manager decides on his own, instead of asking the chief executive, whether to shut down the A line and add an extra shift on the B line.

Again, the promotion manager of a retail store often decides on her own, instead of asking the president, what specials to advertise.

EXTENSION OF HUMAN RIGHTS.
But the most far-reaching influence of a retail store often decides on her own, instead of asking the president, what specials to advertise.

Through their education, these men and women have been able to demand of professional, technical, and other knowledge workers for more human rights, especially civil liberties.

Throughout their education, these men and women have been able to demand of professional, technical, and other knowledge workers for more human rights, especially civil liberties.

effective way of enforcing it. Jack Steiber, head of Michigan State University's industrial relations division, conservatively estimates that more than half a million corporate employees are fired annually for reasons most Americans would not tolerate.

Unjust discharge also appears to be a problem in state agencies, where few good mechanisms exist to protect civil liberties.

This also is true in the federal government, where the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978 appears to have further weakened an already weak procedure for protecting dissenters.

The verifiable facts account for violations of civil liberties in business and public organizations.

The second fact is that, as a federal court once stated, the law of the land has, with only occasional exceptions, traditionally allowed a superior to fire a subordinate "for cause, for no cause, or for cause morally wrong."

One of the knowledge workers there is rising impatience with both the traditional law and the traditional civil liberties practices of organizations.

As Ted Miller, director of the American Center for the Quality of Work Life, says, this powerful employee group "puts personal ethics ahead of any others; postulates human rights as a given, not a gift; and refuses to compromise its new, ever more individualistic principles solely for economic gain."

CHANGING LAWS AND PRACTICES.
How are professionals and technicians succeeding in changing the law?

Supported often by professional societies, such as the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, they are suing companies for unjust discharge.

They have recently won significant decisions in California, Michigan, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania.

How are they succeeding in changing corporate practices? With the vigorous use of a growing number of top executives, they have collaborated with some of the country's most prestigious corporations to codify and protect civil liberties.

For example, IBM's privacy code is probably more advanced than that of any nation, state, or community in the world.

Poland Corporation and Control Data have effective procedures for handling the complaints of employees who believe they have been unfairly penalized or harassed.

Now are such measures confined to the private sector. The Federal Nuclear Regulatory Commission has launched a determined effort to protect dissenters.

By their efforts, professionals and technicians are making work life more equitable, spontaneous, and creative. They are, it has been said, "allowing sunlight in the salt mines."

More important, still, they are bridging the gap between societal America and corporate America.

An spirit if not measure for measure, they are bringing the Bill of Rights of the Constitution into organizational life.

Steamers to host Inferno tonight

ST. LOUIS — Following two consecutive wins to begin the '81-82 MISL season, the Steamers will host the Phoenix Inferno at the Checkerdome tonight, Nov. 25, will observe the Thanksgiving holiday on Thursday, and then take off for Wichita on Friday morning for a game that evening against the always-tough Wichita Wings.

Last Friday, the fifth-largest crowd in MISL history, 18,528 Checkerdome fans watched last year's MISL Rookie-of-the-Year, Don Ebert, score three times and Tony Glavin twice as the Steamers defeated the Kansas City Comets 7-4. The Steamers fell behind early when Comets forward Ben Popola scored his first two goals of the season in the first 90 seconds of the game. Last year's Central Division Champions led at halftime 3-2, scored four times in the third period to preserve the win.

Steamers-Phoenix Wednesday's game at the Checkerdome will be the first meeting of the season between the two Western Division Clubs. The Inferno, currently 6-2, have lost to Cleveland at home on November 13th, and Denver on the road on Nov. 22.

Last year's squad finished the year's 17-23 but competed in the MISL's quarterfinals, eventually losing to the New York Arrows two games to one. The Inferno is the only club to have defeated the Arrows in playoff competition.

Leading the Inferno is Captain Vic Davidson who scored 50 goals in 30 games last year and finished 4th in the league scoring derby. Coach Adrian Webster also welcomes back forwards, George Nanchoff (34 goals), Leroy DeLeon (25 goals), and John McDermott (12 goals).

Joining the Phoenix club out of a temporary retirement will be veteran forward Dabo Petrovic who played at Buffalo the last two years and scored 89 goals. The two times MISL All-Star from Yugoslavia and scored five times against Phoenix last season. He currently holds seventeen Buffalo Stallion scoring records.

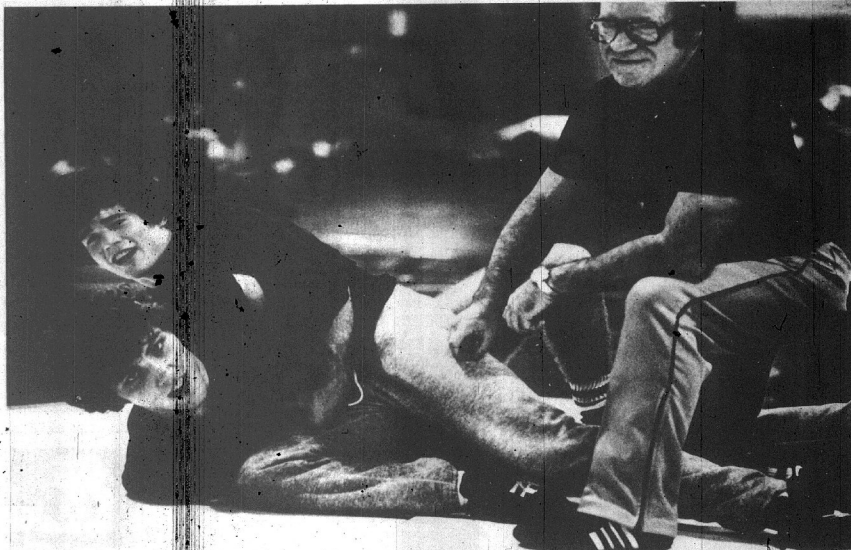

Last year the Steamers split the two game series with Phoenix, winning at the Checkerdome 7-4 on Dec. 21, and losing at Phoenix of Jan. 24, 9-7. Of the goals, Phoenix has scored vs. the Steamers, Davidson has eight.

Steamers-Wichita Wichita opens its season against the Steamers this year, getting a later start than most other MISL clubs. The Wings did, however, play an exhibition game losing to the Memphis Americans at Wichita on Nov. 15, 4-3.

The Wings and Steamers met 4 times last year, the final time in the semifinal championship game at the Checkerdome, when the Steamers came from behind to win 6-7 in a shootout. The other three games all went to the Steamers: 1-4-81 at St. Louis (11) - Wichita (2); 1-18-81 at St. Louis (8) - Wichita (3); 1-29-81 at Wichita (6) - St. Louis (8).

STEAMER NOTES: Goalkeeper Slobodan Iljevski will be presented the Anheuser-Busch Most Valuable Player trophy prior to Wednesday's game. The popular Iljevski was 20-11 last year and won the MVP Award by a vote of the fans. After Friday night's crowd at home, the Steamers own the thirteen and sixteen of the top 20 MISL crowds. Emilio Romero and John Stremela continue their consecutive game played records. Romero's (73) a Steamer record and Stremela (97) a league mark.

GETTING READY Granite City North's wrestling team will open its season next Monday with a dual meet at St. Louis DeSmet. The Steelers began practice earlier this month and hope a number of returnees will lead the way this season. Shown above are returnees Steve Smith (top) and Scott Corey. At right is head coach Walt Whitaker. (Press-Record Photo by Roger Edman)

Special to the Press-Record
CAPE GIRARDEAU — Southeast Missouri State University pulled away here in the second half Tuesday night to defeat Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville 67-57. SIUE's Cougars trailed the Indians by only a point, 27-26, at halftime. But SEMO's Jewell Crawford pumped in 22 of his game-high 30 points in the second half to lead his team to the victory. The Cougars last led at 30-29 with 18:30 remaining in the game. From there, it was all SEMO — and Crawford, SIUE was led in scoring by weekend when they compete in the eighth annual Illinois High School Association (IHSA) Football Playoff Championship games.

Archibald Jones with 17 points. Randall Tyson, a native of Madison, was next-high with 16 points. Terry Mead scored 14 for the 1-1 Indiana.

It was the season opener for SIUE, following last week's exhibition loss to a touring Yugoslavian National Team.

SIUE — Tyson 17, McCarrion 4, Bartels 3, Jones 16, Bean 12, Woelber 4, FG 28, FT 5, PF 21. SEMO — Crawford 30, Mead 14, Thomas 4, Brookins 7, Lane 6, Barrett 6, FG 22, FT 11, PF 18. Halftime score — SEMO 27, SIUE 26.

Four of the title games — for Classes 1A, 2A, 3A and 4A — will be played on Friday (Class 1A & 2A) and Saturday (Class 3A & 4A) at the artificial turf of Hancock Stadium on the campus of Illinois State University, Normal. The championship games for the largest two classes — Class 5A and 6A — will be played Friday on the artificial turf of Dyche Stadium on the campus of Northwestern University, Evanston. None of the games will be televised on the IHSA Television Network or any other commercial station.

Advance tickets for each of the games at Normal are on sale at the ISU Athletic Ticket Office and are priced at $3 each. Tickets will be priced at $4 each on the day of the games. Advance Tickets for the two-game single-session at Northwestern are on sale at the Dyche Stadium ticket office at $4 each. Tickets will be

North grapplers are anxious

By ROGER KRAMER
For the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Granite City North has a tradition of having one of the best wrestling squads in the area, and this season should not be an exception to the rule for the Steelers.

The Steelers have two state qualifiers, Steve Smith and Scott Carey, and two sectional qualifiers, Rodney Unger and Bob Patton, returning to form the nucleus of a strong team.

"If they do well, and if our new guys come along, we'll be respectable with the top teams in the area," North coach Walt Whitaker said. "I hope it (our tradition) helps. It helps a lot going against the other teams, and it also helps inside the program. A lot of the boys look back on our success and gives them the confidence to do well," Whitaker said. Smith, a senior, will wrestle in the 119 pound class. Last season, he finished the season with a 35-2 record and qualified for state in the 119 pound class. Corey, also a senior, is wrestling in the 167 pound class. In the 155 pound class last season, Corey compiled a 33-8 record.

"He's a bit bigger than last year, so he moved up," Whitaker said. "I expect him to be back in the 155 pound class by the state tournament."

"I'm expecting good things out of both of them. These two wrestlers should be pretty tough this year," Whitaker said.

Unger, a junior, will be wrestling in the 132 pound class this season, and Patton, a senior, will be wrestling in the 167 pound class — as soon as Corey is back down to the 155 pound class.

Because Corey defeated Patton in a challenge match, during practice, Corey gets the starting nod in Monday's opener at DeSmet.

Other returning lettermen include senior David Owens (Hwt.), juniors Monte Kessler (145) and John Morris (185), and sophomore Greg Nemeth (105).

Other starters for the Steelers so far are juniors Colin Davis (98), Bruce Widin (138) and Ken Paterson (153), sophomore Brent McKenney (112), and freshman Mark Whitaker.

Coach Whitaker emphasized that Mark, his son, earned his way onto the varsity line-up. "He's not bad. He did a good job in challenge matches. It's hard for a freshman to break into the starting line-up here," Whitaker said he was still conducting challenges to determine the remainder of the varsity and junior varsity rosters.

"The kids are working hard right now, and I think they'll make a good account for themselves," Whitaker said. "We've got a tough schedule, and it's a real test for the boys."

"We hope we can wrestle with teams such as Roxana, Belleville West and (Granite City) South. Bethalto is supposed to be better, and some of the St. Louis County “GRANITE CITY” The National Wildlife Federation has called for an end to federal subsidies which are subsidizing the development of often “foolhardy” development of the nation’s fragile barrier islands.

“We’re not,” said George H. Hair, executive vice president of the NWF, “making the appeal in testimony at a Senate Environmental Pollution Subcommittee hearing. He spoke in support of S. 1018, a bill which would end federal assistance for beach stabilization and construction of waste water treatment plants and bridges on the sandy, shifting offshore islands.

“Coastal barriers begin to disintegrate when we try to put permanent structures on them, destroying themselves and their dependent fish and wildlife resources,” Hair explained. “With its subsidies, grants and insurance programs, the federal government is subsidizing this destructive and often foolhardy development, but actually underwrites, in the process, the destruction.

remain in equilibrium with the immense power of the ocean, he said. When the islands are “stabilized” and “protected” by dunes, houses and other man-made works, the ecosystem — which depends on the islands’ ability to shift and change — is destroyed.

Dependent on a healthy barrier island ecosystem are such threatened and endangered species as loggerhead turtles, bald eagles, brown pelicans, and sea oats, as well as the millions of migrating birds and waterfowl that use the islands as nesting and feeding areas.

Barrier islands are also an important recreational resource for tourists and they are vital as storm buffers,” the NWF official said. In addition, up to 30 percent of the most important sport and commercial fish and shellfish species depend for their existence on the estuarine and wetlands provided by the islands and barrier beaches.

Hair estimated that between 1975 and 1980 the federal government spent nearly $750 million on barrier island development.

“By subsidizing the higher costs and greater risks associated with barrier island development, the federal government has interfered with the normal processes of the natural place,” he said. “S. 1018 recognizes that we must redirect federal investments

Department heads named

The Belleville Area College Board of Trustees named department heads for three departments last week.

Dr. Bobby J. Poe and Arthur Parrish will continue as heads of the Social Sciences and Business departments, respectively. Gene Masek was named head of the English department, replacing Wayne Lanier.

Dr. Richard Melinder and Vito Benivenga, currently the heads of Life and Health Sciences, and Fine Arts, respectively, will remain in these positions on an acting basis.

Dean of Baccalaureate-oriented Programs Dr. Frank Gornick will continue to function as the head of the Physical and Math Sciences Department.

Department head candidates are nominated by faculty members in each department, and then are accepted or rejected by the administration.

The three appointments that were confirmed represent appointments of department heads nominated by the faculty.

The selection process will continue in the other three departments, where nominees were not acceptable to the administration.

Department heads are responsible for budgeting, staffing and planning for the department.

The board accepted a gift of an IVAC 230 Controller, a piece of equipment to be used in the Allied Health programs. The controller, valued at $1,310, was a gift from the IVAC Corp.

Norman Nold, board attorney for three years, is retiring from his BAC duties and was thanked for his service by Chairman Robert Jentelmann.

The next meeting of the board will be a special meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, Dec. 7.

Newly-elected board members will take office at that meeting, and board officers will be chosen. It will be followed by a study session.

Girl Scouts to host Festival of Giving

Quad-City Girl Scout Troops affiliated with the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council will host Festival of Giving events during the first weeks of December to provide food, gifts and toys to area families during the Christmas season.

The first holiday observance will be on Friday, Dec. 4, from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Granite City Township Hall, arranged by leaders of Neighborhood Two with Mrs. Barbara Boyer serving as chairman.

Mrs. Hess hosts circle meeting

Mrs. Mildred Hess entertained the Lydia Circle of Nameoki United Methodist Church for the November meeting.

During the business segment the members agreed to send all birthday money to the Children's Home in Mount Vernon. A greeting card was signed and sent to Mrs. Sayers who is a patient at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

In conjunction with the Thanksgiving season, each one told what they were thankful for followed by poetry readings. Mrs. Dorothy Wallace read a poem entitled, "Take Time," and Mary Bailey recited, "I Said to My Heart Today." Mrs. Vergie Spaulding read "Footprints" and offered the closing prayer.

The next meeting will be on Dec. 17 at Ravanelli's Restaurant to begin at 1 p.m., the hostess announced. Mrs. Hess served an apple dessert to those named and to Effie Vrenick, Helen Melcalf, Marian Whitaker, Gladys Russell and Marie Isenbarg.

John Apperson will entertain with a magic performance to be followed by a song fest of Christmas carols. Santa Claus will also visit the festive affair and present small gifts to the guests.

Captain Donald Salebury of the Salvation Army will attend and all gifts will be presented to him by the neighborhood chairman for distribution to needy families.

Neighborhood Four and Neighborhood Five will hold their events on Sunday, Dec. 6, at separate locations.

Sharon Earney, chairman of the yuletide project, for Neighborhood Four announced scouts will meet at St. Margaret Mary school cafeteria from 1 to 3 p.m. on Dec. 6.

Neighborhood Five scouts are to attend their festival from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Granite City Township Hall, arranged by Harriet Evans.

Mrs. Gloria Chambers, chairman of the festival for Neighborhood One, including scouts from the Madison-Venice area will meet from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 13, at the Madison Recreation Center.

Their decorated baskets of foods and gifts will be taken to individual families in that area selected by the troops and leaders. Mrs. Chambers explained. During the afternoon there will be skits, songs and refreshments the chairman added.

To further celebrate the holiday season there will be 3,400 Girl Scouts of the River Bluffs Council, who will be singing carols at St. Clair and Alton Square Shopping Centers on Dec. 15, 16, and 17, according to a council spokesman.

Revival services at local church

The Rev. H. D. Knight, assistant missionary for the Houston and Stewart counties in Tennessee and Erin, Tenn., will be the evangelist at revival services to be hosted by the West 22nd Street Baptist Church, 2800 W. 22nd St.

Services will be conducted at 7 o'clock each evening beginning on Sunday, Nov. 29 and continuing through Saturday, Dec. 5, according to the Rev. Louis Thiele, host pastor.

Rev. Knight has conducted services at the local church previously. Rev. Thiele added. There also will be special singing provided under the leadership of Vernon Bruce, the church music director. Sunday School will convene at 9:30 a.m. with the worship service set for 10:30 a.m., the host minister noted.

Mrs. Skubish entertains club

Members of the Handicraft Club attended a dinner at Ralph and Charlie's Restaurant in Madison, last week, hosted by Mrs. Gladys Skubish.

Following dinner the group retired to the Skubish home for a regular monthly meeting.

Plans were finalized for a Christmas party to be held at Black Forest Restaurant in St. Louis.

The birthday of Mrs. Irene Kadane was observed with the members presenting a cash gift to the honoree. Mrs. Skubish later served a birthday cake for dessert and presented each with a Christmas favor.

Mrs. Ann Mega also gave each one a macramé holiday wall hanger and prizes for the evening were to Mrs. Mega and Mrs. Alexandra Severine. Also present were Frances Vivod and Kate Fedora.

Pontoon Baptist welcomes Rev. Marlyn L. Schott

The Rev. Marlyn L. Schott assumed his duties as the new minister at Pontoon Baptist Church, 4008 Pontoon Road, Sunday at the 10:40 a.m. worship service.

He and his wife, the former Gracie Genevieve Saladin, attended the 7 p.m. service which was a musical program planned in their honor.

Following the presentation a reception was held in the church fellowship hall, hosted by the congregation.

Rev. Schott and his family resided in Fort Worth, Texas, and he was serving as an interim pastor for the Antioch Baptist Church in Ellisville, Mo., prior to accepting the pastorate of the local church.

The minister was born in Grover, Mo., and he and his wife were married on March 17, 1958. They are the parents of three children, Connie Lynn, 22, who is married, Joe Ann, 20, and Michael Lee, 18, all of Fort Worth.

Sutton-Woods

Miss Alberta Woods and Terry Sutton were united in marriage on Nov. 7 in an early evening ceremony at Bethesda Temple, 2161 State St.

The Rev. Harry W. Chronister performed the double ring service at 6 o'clock. Musical selections were provided by the church organist preceding the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Clinton D. Woods, 59 Larch Lane, Wood

Stephen Yencho is fraternity initiate

Stephen Yencho, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward (Mary Evelyn) Yencho, 2571 Waterman Ave., was initiated into the Illinois Alpha Chapter of Tau Beta Pi Association, at the University of Illinois, Champaign, during the weekend.

Membership in Tau Beta Pi recognizes students for outstanding scholastic achievement and exemplary character.

The initiation banquet was held in the Towne Hall Banquet Center in Champaign, where initiates were presented certificates and fraternity pins.

Yencho is a junior student in the College of Engineering at the university and is a 1979 graduate of North High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Yencho motored to Champaign to attend the banquet honoring their son.

Ladies Coterie plans party

Plans for the annual Christmas party for members of the Ladies Coterie were announced at a meeting held last week at the First United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Clarence Boettger, chairman of the event, said members are to meet at 12:30 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 3, at Alexander's Restaurant for lunch. During the afternoon there will be a gift exchange between secret pals, the chairman added.

Mrs. E. F. Reiske served a dessert course to precede the session conducted by President Mrs. John Kenner. Mrs. John Gordon reported that Mrs. Louis Meek was a patient at a St. Louis hospital and a card was signed by those present and mailed.

The club collect was led by Mrs. Floyd Henley and Mrs. William Carls gave the pledge of allegiance.

During the business segment an invitation was read from the Wednesday Club of Belleville, to attend their annual Christmas Reciprocity Tea on Wednesday, Dec. 2.

At the conclusion of the meeting an auction was held by Mrs. Dawson Wade, program chairman, assisted by Mrs. Marvin Eddington. Others present were Mrs. T. C. Aufderheide, Joseph Bilibrey, W. G. Cooley, Jack Cornish, Keith Edwards, G. E. Filcoff, Hugh Foster, James Fox, David Friedman, E. J. Griffith, Ray Horn, David John, Charles Kohl, C. L. Louis, Alfred Pape, Fred Werner, and an associate member, Mrs. B. S. Miller.

Marge Kacera gives lesson

Mrs. Marge Kacera led the study program for members of the Sarah Group of Central Christian Church at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Jo Stephens, last week. She chose for her topic, "Being Christian Stewards Under Economic Adversity." Those taking part in a skit entitled, "Living With Inflation in Zaire" were Ruth Lelik, Myra Parriah, Dolores Yates and Mary Lee Lorton.

Mrs. Kacera also led the worship and the Fellowship of the Least Coin.

The session was opened with the members repeating the CWF Prayer. Plans were finalized for Christmas gifts to be given to the homebound members and for hosting the Dec. 3 general meeting.

Announcements included the Quadrennial Assembly to be held at Purdue University in Lafayette, Ind., on June 21-25. Also the Home Mission Study meeting will be held at the church on Dec. 6, featuring Dr. Clinton Gortney as the speaker. He is director of the children's home in St. Louis. Chairmen of the program are requesting donations of cookies, hose and tube socks for the youth at the St. Louis home.

There also is a need for clothing for the children ages five through 17 who are housed at the Emergency Children's Home (ECHO) in St. Louis. It was noted.

The meeting closed with the CWF benediction followed by refreshments served to those named and to Ruby Hart and Flora Mae Lensing. The next gathering will be on Dec. 21 in the home of Mrs. Lorton.

Lydia Group fall meeting

Ns. Geneva Butler gave a devotional lesson for members of the Lydia Group of Central Christian Church followed by a skit entitled, "Living With Inflation in Zaire." Assisting Mrs. Butler with the performance were Mary Billrey, Mildred Collins and Betty Kelso.

Mrs. Helen Strimpe, group leader, announced the First World Outreach dinner will be held on Dec. 6 with a representative of the Christian Home in St. Louis, as guest speaker. The topic will be on ECHO (Emergency Child Center.) The next quadrennial assembly, which is scheduled to be held at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., on June 21-25, was also discussed.

Plans were also made to remember the church shut-ins at Thanksgiving and Christmas time. Mrs. Kelso offered the closing prayer followed by refreshments served by Lois Billrey. Others present were Madge Hanson, Bernice Fague, Alice Deatherage, Doris Edwards and Beth Spengler.

Granite Chapter elects officers

WE, THE family of SAMUEL (Dock)
HAZELWOOD wish to express our deepest appreciation and gratitude to the many friends and relatives who shared our sorrow by giving of their sympathy, flowers and beautiful floral offerings. A special thank you to Dr. Lay, Popovic, Zenisek and Harrison. The Fifth Floor

FOUR YEARS has passed since that sad day. When one we loved was called away. God took her home -
"His Will". Within our hearts she liveth still - CAROL GREATHOUSE
from her family. 32 11 25
IN LOVING memory of ROBERT W. KINDLE, who passed away Nov. 21, 1979.
Sadly missed by all who loved him - The Kindle
Family. 32 11 25
IN LOVING memory of KITSA PAPADONOFF, who passed away Nov. 22, 1979.
Twenty-five years have passed since that sad day.
When one we loved was called away. God took her home - it was His will.
Within our hearts she liveth still. Sadly missed by the family. 32 11 25
IN LOVING memory of DOROTHY DODDLE, who passed away Nov. 27, 1979.
Remembrance is a golden chain. Death tries to break but all in vain; To have, to love, and then to lose is the greatest sorrow of one's heart. The years may wipe out many things,
But this we wipe out never:
Remembrance of those happy days. When we were all together - Sadly missed by Family and Friends. 32 11 25

Troop 7 holds court of honor

Boy Scout Troop 7 held its Fall Court of Honor last week. Scoutmaster J. J. Kusmierczak planned and hosted the event.

Robert Janer is scoutmaster for the Troop. Donald Gray opened Court with the Pledge of Allegiance and Mike Brazel led the Court in the Scout Oath.

Three types of firebuilding were demonstrated by the scouts, the crisp-cross by Jeff Kittel, the log cabin by Greg Hagen and the teepee by Eric Markovich. The theme for November being "Teamwork," the scouts were given a speech entitled "Boy in the Bleachers." Following which, Markovich gave a speech using sign language for the hearing-impaired. He then verbally translated the speech for the audience.

After Szymek gave the meaning of the Tenderfoot Badge, troop committee member Mrs. Joyce Brazel presented the Tenderfoot certificates and pins to Fulks, Gray, Markovich and Szymek.

Hagen told the meaning of the second class badge and Cobra Patrol Leader Kittel awarded the certificates and pins to Fulks, Gray, Hagen, Markovich, Matosian, Pinero and Szymek.

First Class certificates and pins were awarded the following scouts by troop committee member Robert Matosian: James Barron, Mike Brazel, Jody Kusmierczak and Frank Scauro.

Troop Committee member Ann Kusmierczak presented the Star certificate and pin to the Patrol Leader, Williamson.

Steve Kusmierczak, Sr., the troop scouting coordinator, presented the following merit badges: American cultures to Kittel, art to Brazel, camping to Markovich and communication merit badge was the 21st merit badge to Kittel, the one that put him at the end of the road to the Eagle.

First-aid to Barron, Brazel, Pinero and Scauro, model design and building to Brazel, reading to Kittel and sports to Greg Hagen and Kevin Williamson.

Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Steve Kusmierczak Jr. presented the following special award to the executive officer of the troop, Father Joseph Lawless — the "Certificate for Caring." Accepting the award was Rev. Gary Perret, who is the newly-appointed pastor of St. Joseph's Church.

Troop committee chairman Mrs. Jeanne Brandon, and troop committee members Mrs. Joyce Brazel, Mrs. Ann Kusmierczak, Mrs. Dianna Markovich and Robert Matosian were given special awards for service. Senior Patrol Leader Kevin Williamson closed the court with the Scout Law. Those in attendance were then provided with refreshments by the scouts.

Old special student record destruction

The Madison County Special Education District's Region One cooperative serving Granite City, Madison and Venice students, is planning to destroy some of its unneeded records.

In accordance with local Board of Education policies and the Illinois Student Records Act, the region is giving notice of its intent to destroy inactive special education temporary records.

The cooperative will destroy those temporary special education records on all students who have graduated from high school or who have been terminated from programming and services for at least five calendar years.

Parents or guardians of minor, or non-competent children may request to review the record of their ward prior to the destruction.

All such requests for review are to be made to the director of Special Education, Region I cooperative, within 30 days.

GC man designs unique system.

One million trout annually goal of Missouri hatchery

By VALERIE EVENDEN of the Press-Record

Hundreds of thousands of visitors to Missouri's Shepherd of the Hills Fish Hatchery, located near Table Rock Lake, marvel at its unique design, which has many concepts never before used in hatcheries.

The thousands of fishermen who enjoy the rewards attained at the hatchery — about 70,000 stocking-size trout each month — plus the multitudes of visitors, are reaping benefits from the brainchild of Don Henson, a former Granite City resident.

A conceptual plan for the renovation of the Shepherd of the Hills Hatchery originally constructed in the mid-1950's, was developed by a consulting engineering firm in January, 1973.

The plan called for visitor facilities to be incorporated into the hatchery building and this area, including its major attraction — a large walk-in aquarium — was opened last spring.

Missouri Department of Conservation engineer Don Henson reviewed the plan and, late in 1975, completed the new and vastly different design. Some aspects of the design are unique concepts never before used in this field, according to Charles E. Hicks, superintendent of hatcheries.

One such concept involves the use of cooled water to retard hatching and early growth of fish. This practice allows grouping of fish in 12 separate size categories, producing one grouping each month, Hicks explained.

As each new group enters into the system as small fish, another group is ready for the stocking process.

Another unique feature utilizes energy from the stored water in Table Rock Lake. Water piped from Table Rock is under high pressure and is forced through a restriction, producing a vacuum.

This vacuum draws half of the water from the trout raceways (water which would otherwise be flushed through and lost), aerates and recirculates it back through the raceways, it was explained.

The system, known as an "injector" in engineering jargon, provides a savings of cold water, which is limited supply, and energy. Normally electrical pumps would be used to recirculate the water. In this system, the available source of energy in the water itself accomplishes the same job with conservation effort said.

Shepherd of the Hills is the only hatchery in the nation known to utilize this technique, it was learned.

The water flushed through the raceways about 16 million gallons daily — is channeled, through a series of settling ponds to allow fish wastes and feed residues to settle out before the water is discharged into Lake Taneycomo.

Because of budget limitations and because trout still had to be raised where the project was underway, the construction of the new hatchery was undertaken in three phases, with the final phases — the pollution control systems — completed last year.

The Shepherd of the Hills Hatchery, in its original form, was completed and opened in 1958, about the time the gates to Table Rock Lake were closed and the fate of the White River was sealed.

Water released from the deeper layers of Table Rock into Lake Taneycomo is extremely cold and the change from warm to cold water in the White River resulted in one of the finest trout fisheries in the Midwest.

Even though Missouri state hatcheries raised trout before the new Table Rock Lake was completed, there were not enough fish to stock Lake Taneycomo.

Congress then voted to allow Missouri to use a limited amount of the cold water from Table Rock to raise trout and the Corps of Engineers granted a license to the Missouri Conservation Department to construct a hatchery — Shepherd of the Hills Hatchery.

The number of trout fishing trips at Lake Taneycomo increased steadily until it became apparent in the late 1960's that the hatchery could not meet the demand for trout.

At the same time, more fishermen were going to the trout parks and Boonville Springs and Boonville Hatcheries could not raise enough trout to stock their own streams because of limited supplies of spring water.

The extra fish had to be raised at Shepherd of the Hills and, in 1971, the plan was formed to rebuild this hatchery.

Established as the project's major objectives were to increase fish production from 40,000 pounds per year to 400,000 pounds; to develop facilities to accommodate more than 300,000 visitors per year, and, to develop facilities to control and treat any pollution from the hatchery before the water is discharged into Lake Taneycomo.

Shepherd of the Hills has always been a popular place for visitors and, to further this interest, the new visitors' center has various exhibits, including a 24-foot, 4,000-gallon walk-in aquarium where rainbow and brown trout and other Ozark fish are on display.

A resident naturalist is on hand to explain the day-to-day operation of the trout hatchery and a film is shown to visitors. The center is open year-round and more than 40,000 visitors are expected annually.

Don Henson, the former Granite Cityan, is accorded much of the credit for success of the hatchery project and his design has saved the State of Missouri thousands of dollars through the unique concepts utilized in the renovation program.

Henson resides with his wife, Alice (Spalding) Henson, and son, Gary, in Jefferson City, Mo. Mrs. Henson is the daughter of Mrs. Virgie Spaulding of Granite City. The civil engineer and geologist graduated from Granite City High School South and from the University of Missouri at Rolla. His grandfather, Edward J. Henson, lives at 2533 Grand Ave.

The goals involved in the hatchery renovation, a lengthy and expensive project, have been virtually accomplished, and the end result will help to meet the expectations of Missouri trout fishermen. The sport which is increasing in popularity each year.

PROSTITUTION ARRESTS

Agents of the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation and the Illinois State Police made four arrests at the Skelly Truck Stop on Illinois Route 203 and Interstate 270 at 10 p.m. Monday. Four persons, one from East St. Louis and three from St. Louis, were charged with trespassing, and prostitution. The agents were undercover and driving semi-tractor trailers. A spokesman for the Illinois State Police said the arrests are part of a "crackdown" statewide being conducted at all regular truck stops.

Bibles for prisoners being collected here

By MICK STRANGE of the Press-Record

Although the Watergate affair will never be forgotten for the damage it did to the nation, there may be some good coming out of it that few persons realize.

In Chuck Colson's book, "Life Sentence," he lists at the end an address for anyone interested in helping rehabilitate, write to, help, or work with prisoners.

A Granite City couple did write and got the name of a prisoner at the John A. Graham Correctional Center in Hillsboro, Ill.

Robert and Eileen Wojtowicz, active members of the First Assembly of God Church, started writing the prisoner and learned last summer, while visiting him, a need for Bibles there.

They talked to people at their church and friends and collected 65 Bibles and then delivered them to the Hillsboro facility. Since then, they have learned of a need at the Hillsboro facility for Bibles and also learned from the chaplain at Menard State Prison that there also is a need for Bibles there.

The Wojtowicz have started a drive, with the assistance of members of their church, to collect Bibles and donations for Bibles for the prisoners at the two facilities.

Although the King James Version is deeply respected in many churches, the more modern translations are needed for the prisoners. According to a prison chaplain, the new translations are easier for the men to understand and relate to than the "beautiful old English" of the King James Version.

City backs bonds to relocate business

The Granite City Council has approved a letter of intent for a $170,000 industrial revenue bond issue for the relocation and expansion of Tri-City Canvas Products.

Herman Schoeber III, owner of the canvas products company, said the bonds would be used to expand his business, which makes special canvas items and tarpaulins for industrial use. The business is presently located at 2156 Pontoon Road and Schoeber said he would like to move to a site at 16th Street and Grand Avenue, where he would construct a new building.

In addition to his own company, Schoeber said he tentatively plans to build other offices at the new location to rent to trucking companies. He currently rents office space to trucking companies in Venice.

Schoeber appeared briefly before the council Nov. 17 to begin his plans for the bonds.

According to the letter of intent, the city issued the resolution to relieve conditions of unemployment, encourage the increase of industry and commerce, increase the tax base of the city and serve the citizens of the area.

Watch out for hazardous toys

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

Although there are fewer and fewer hazardous toys on the market each year, the largest category of consumer complaints to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission is about hazardous toys. So, it is up to the buyer to use judgment when choosing Christmas toys.

We often buy toys that appeal to us rather than ones that are appropriate for the child. An electrical toy that might be safe for one eight-year-old child might be a hazardous toy in the hands of another.

Most toys are labeled to indicate the age group for which the toy was designed — that is, "for four to seven years" or "for eight to 12 years."

Use this information as a guide, but remember that that particular toy may not be suitable for all children in that age bracket.

Keep in mind the particular child you're buying it for. Also, ask yourself if there are younger children in the family who shouldn't play with this toy. Think about how much adult supervision may be required.

There are guidelines to help you choose the ideal toy for a very young child. Any toy for an infant or toddler should have smooth, round edges — no exposed pins, wires or nails, no detachable parts that could be swallowed or stuck in an ear or nostril, and no darts, arrows or missiles with sharp points.

Ideal toys for small children should not be made of glass or brittle plastic. Stuffed animals, a perennially favorite toy, should not have sharp wires in the ears, tails or body that can poke through the material, and injure a child.

And they should not have a nose, mouth, eyes or buttons that can be pulled off and put in the child's mouth — because that's where an infant will put them. Always inspect these items carefully before giving them to a small child to play with.

Electrical toys, such as toy ovens and trains, should never be given to a child under eight. They can come in contact with water and short out, and they sometimes overheat.

There also are some hobby supplies, such as kilns or wood-burning kits, which reach high temperatures and should not be used by children under 12.

No matter how cute or clever you think a toy is, before you buy it, ask yourself two questions: Is the toy appropriate to the child's age? Is it a well-designed, safe toy?

If you have further questions about safe toys, you may contact the Illinois Department of Public Health, Division of Engineering and Sanitation, 535 W. Jefferson St., Springfield 62761.

Say "Merry Christmas" with tasty and nutritious popcorn party mix

Christmas is the time for family and friends, for celebrating and sharing. Although the season brings its own merriment and warmth, the activity and rush can make it difficult to do those little "extras" that create that special feeling. Popcorn—plain or, seasoned—makes a delicious, nutritious treat at any get-together. For more variety, try this easy yet flavorful Party Mix recipe. It's a great way to say "Merry Christmas!"

Stir Crazy® Party Mix

2 quarts popped

- popcorn
- 2 cups thin pretzel sticks
- 2 cups bite size rice cereal squares
- 2 cups bite size corn cereal squares
- 1 cup peanuts, optional
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt

1. Prepare 2 quarts of popcorn using 1 tablespoon of vegetable oil and 1 3/4 cup of popcorn. Transfer popped corn into a 13 x 9 x 2 inch baking pan. Combine pretzel sticks, cereals and nuts in pan with popcorn. Stir to mix.

2. In small skillet or sauce pan combine butter, Worcestershire sauce, seasoned salt and garlic salt. Heat over low heat until butter melts, stirring frequently. Pour over popcorn mixture, stirring to blend.

3. Bake in preheated 300 degree oven for 15 minutes, stirring midway through heating period. Makes about 4 quarts.

Everybody loves the holiday season—it's the time of year when friends and family are busily preparing special mouth-watering goodies to share with others.

Old fashioned peanut brittle is one tempting treat that has been a yuletide favorite through the ages.

"Even nicer," say home economists from Whirlpool Corporation, "delicious peanut brittle can now be made quickly and easily in a microwave oven. No more stirring constantly and checking closely until the mixture reaches the proper temperature."

Quick-cooking

The following recipe takes only nine minutes to prepare in a microwave oven, and it's so good you'll want to make several batches for gift-giving, too.

In a 1½-quart casserole, stir together peanuts, sugar, syrup and salt.

Cook 8 minutes at HIGH, stirring well after 4 minutes.

Add butter and vanilla.

Cook 1 minute longer at HIGH.

Add baking soda and quickly stir until light and foamy.

Immediately pour onto lightly buttered baking sheet.

Spread out thin.
When cool, break into pieces.
Store in air-tight container.

OLD FASHIONED PEANUT BRITTLE

- 1 cup raw peanuts
1 cup sugar
½ cup white corn syrup
⅛ tsp. salt
1 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. butter

"Now, Dash'er! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Cupid!
on, Donner and Blitzen!
To the top of the porch! to

Experts advise on elegant entertaining

©Dina Merrill says, "In planning a party, always invite some guests who haven't met all the others. It helps assure an interesting conversation mix."

Celeste Holm recommends, "Create an elegant holiday luncheon around a dish that's unpredictable—like an Indian egg curry."

A touch of elegance

House Beautiful decorating editor Mary Emmerling advises, "Placecards are elegant. Think of new and fun ways to let your guests know where you want them to sit, like a tagged gift or flower at each place setting."

These are just a few of the lively entertaining ideas in a new 16-page booklet called "Bringing New Elegance to the '80s." It's a free publication, published as a consumer service by the U.S. offices of Finlandia Vodka, and it's a perfect hostess-helper for the holiday season.

Keep guests in mind

For instance, Chip Tolbert, fashion director of the Men's Fashion Association, warns, "Never serve drippy hors d'oeuvres. They're disastrous to both clothes and carpets. And have enough hangers—guests don't appreciate having their coats heaped on a bed."

He also reminds, "Remember the cocktail napkins, to prevent moisture on cocktail glasses from dripping on guests' clothes."

However, an eye-catching idea for an elegant holiday occasion is serving drinks from a block of ice. Make an ice mold by putting a bottle of Finlandia Vodka in a half-gallon milk carton.

Fill with water and freeze until solid—the vodka won't freeze. Remove the carton by running lukewarm water around the outside. Then, line a tray with napkins, place the vodka ice block on top and serve—as they do in reindeer country!

Tabletop beauty

For elegance in table settings, Mary Emmerling uses one big wine glass no matter what she's serving, and columnist Harriet Van Horne warns, "No dinner served under the hot-white glare of a 1,000 watt chandelier can possibly be elegant. Get out those candles!"

Her favorite dinner for six

(which she says is the ideal number) is a serve-yourself Beef Stroganoff, into which she stirs a unique finishing touch, three tablespoons of cultured sour cream and a splash of vodka.

Her elegant dinner ideas, along with "Dina Merrill's Elegant Brunch," "Celeste Holm's Elegant Lunch," and other entertaining ideas by seven experts, are in the pointer-packed booklet.

Spirit of Christmas past is still present today

Christmas 1879. Snowflakes gently envelop cities, towns and glens across the continent in a deep, white blanket of snow. The scenario is reminiscent of the days of "Currier & Ives."

The hustle and bustle of Christmas preparation begin to the tune of side-walk Santas ringing their bells for the benefit of homeless immigrant families. Coachmen leading horse and buggies cordially escort shoppers from store to store, in the midst of crowded city streets.

Logs burn in living room fireplaces, warming the hands and toes of weary Christmas travelers who have come by way of train, horse-back and foot to spend the holiday with family and friends.

The smell of pine fills rooms, a reminder of the search in the woods for an evergreen bigger and grander than that of the year before.

As grandmothers reveal their secret recipes for creating perfect gingerbread men and "chock-full-of-chocolate chip" cookies, wide-eyed children observe, awaiting the chance to sneak a drop of sweet tasting batter.

100 years later and the scenes appear quite different from those of "old-fashioned" Christmases of long ago.

Reflecting modern technology and changing ideologies, today's holiday season is marked with new and changing symbols and traditions.

Coast to coast.

The customs and tokens that say "Merry Christmas" appear on television, over the radio, and in newspapers and magazines. Santa Claus is now a universal symbol.

No body of land or water prevents the world wide exchange of greetings of "Joyeux Noël," "Feliz Navidad," and "Buon Natale," as Christmas cheer is spread via satellite.

Closer to home, Christmas ornaments of plastic, aluminum and other metals adorn windows, doors, roofs and landscapes. Twinkling multi-colored electric lights augment the shimmering glow of a clear winter's night.

Families venture out on Christmas Eve to purchase the latest in shiny, aluminum Christmas trees in shades of pink, white and evergreen.

Gifts are chosen from the latest in multifaceted appliances, clothing and jewelry.

And, the season is celebrated in the office, in restaurants, on stage and at home.

Time of love

Times have surely changed. And, along with them, the holidays and celebrations that have survived the ages.

Christmas past was part of a simpler, less complex society, thus it was celebrated in such a manner.

Modern lifestyles often do not lend themselves to the unhurried and often time consuming preparations characteristic of earlier days.

However, a change in the modes of celebrations does not mean that Christmas present is any less significant or meaningful.

As long as Christmas represents a hope for the future, the freedom to give and receive with warmth and meaning, and a time of love, the meaning of Christmas will endure, and Christmas 2079 will be as special as any Christmas past.

TASTY YULE TREAT

The following recipe for oyster stew is from The Complete Book of Entertaining From the Emily Post Institute written by Elizabeth Post and Anthony Staffieri (Harper and Row).

OYSTER STEW

- 1 stick butter or margarine
- 3 cups oysters
- 2 cups milk
- 4 cups medium cream
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Cayenne pepper and paprika

Melt butter and sauté the oysters until the edges curl, about three minutes. Add the milk and cream and bring to a boil. Season with salt, pepper and cayenne and sprinkle with paprika. Makes 16 small servings.

Christmas Memories Are Made of This...

Perhaps it is the recollection of a robin amid the snow-brushed branches on a cold December day... or the excitement felt by all when Dad brought in the tree... Christmas is made up of as many memories as there are stars in the sky, no doubt.

For some, it is the memory of a store window, imaginatively decorated with mechanical figures... for others, the weeks spent rehearsing carols in the choir loft... or, spotting that wished-for bicycle under the tree on Christmas morning.

We may remember those special aromas that emanated from the kitchen just before the holidays... we may think back on shopping in the dime store for a long list of friends and relatives, all the while clutching a few precious dollars in our hand... or, the surprise appearance of a friend or relative we had not expected to see one holiday.

Some will think back to a Christmas when they secretly knit that special muffler or sweater... others, to the time when a son or daughter performed in the church pageant.

Softly falling snow may bring back memories of that wonderful sleigh ride to a lucky few... or the snowman built together with brothers and sisters... while others may remember the warmth of the family fireplace.

Was there a Christmas when a kitten was found under the tree? Or, one when you were alone in another town, and neighbors invited you in?

Perhaps the Christmas that stands out in your memory is the Christmas you became engaged... or, the time you received your favorite doll.

Christmas may bring back the joy of a special reunion, long ago... or the still-fresh memory of a walk in the woods after a snowstorm.

The sights and sounds of Christmas may recall an heirloom that decorated the family tree for so many years... the memory of carolers who sang outside your door last year... or, the first time you ever read Dickens' A Christmas Carol.

You may remember a Christmas spent in the city, all aglow with lights... or a holiday in the country, with stars brilliant in the wintry night.

Is it the memory of your youngster's first visit to Santa? Or, the time you helped Dad find firewood for the stove?

Every Christmas renews our memories of times gone by... and just as important, creates new memories to be savored in days to come.

For Christmas is yesterday, today and tomorrow... it is a spirit that transcends time itself.

Chanukkah Is The Feast Of Lights

Of all the festivals on the Jewish calendar, the most popular one with Jewish children would have to be Chanukkah. Also known as the "Feast of Lights" because the menorah is lit on each night of the feast, Chanukkah (or Hanukkah) commemorates the victories of Judas Maccabeus over the Syrians, and the rededication of the Temple at that time. For this reason it is also known as the Feast of Dedication.

Its appeal to youngsters is due, among other things, to the fact that presents are bestowed upon them by their parents, and games of chance are played.

The feast lasts 8 days and is celebrated from the 25th day of the Jewish month of Kislev to the 2nd day of the month of Adar. Each night, a special candelabra with 8 candles is lit, beginning with one candle on the first night and continuing with an additional candle each night until all the candles are lit. Special prayers are said during this traditional rite, which is celebrated in the home as well as the synagogue.

One of the games of chance features a 4-sided top made of wood or metal. On each side of the top is a Hebrew letter; the four letters together represent the words, "a great miracle happened there," referring to the miraculous burning of the Temple lights for 8 days and nights after the victories of the Maccabees. Card games are also played, and there are special pastries and candies to be enjoyed, along with special dishes.

Chanukkah, commemorating as it does a glorious chapter in the history of the Jewish people, is a joyful feast eagerly anticipated by children and adults alike.

St. Nicholas Day: holiday for dessert lovers

Santa Claus—a figure of merriment and jollity, who brings with him a sack crammed to overflowing with gifts.

Santa Claus—the name on every child's lips as December 24th approaches. "I wonder," children in every part of the country can be heard whispering, "what Santa is going to bring me this year."

Santa Claus—the harbinger of the pleasures of Christmas, for whom we dutifully get out a glass of milk and a plate of cookies, to fuel his energies for the long night ahead.

Saint Nicholas, or Sinterklaas—the patron saint of children and seafarers, and the patron saint of the Netherlands—was the original of Santa Claus.

He brought gifts for children in the Netherlands, and later on in New Netherland, on December 5th, the eve of his birthday, which date was the traditional beginning of a period of celebration which continued, virtually uninterrupted, through Christmas and New Year till January 6th, Twelfth Night.

The children would show their appreciation for his generosity by leaving out, for his horse, a large bowl of water, plus carrots and several handfuls of hay stuffed into their wooden shoes.

Many other traditions were a vital part of St. Nicholas Eve and Day.

Preparations began with the baking and decorating of ceremonial breads and cakes.

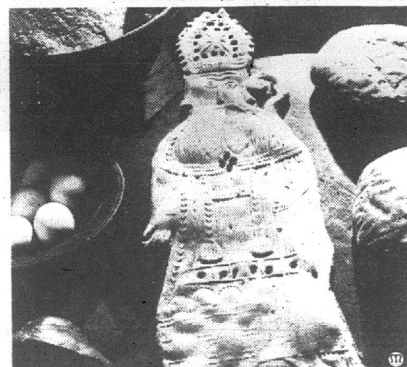

On the afternoon of December 5th, young people would gather together at designated homes to embellish St. Nicholas cakes with designs in silver and gold leaf.

After the completion of this activity, which was known as "cake pasting," and which could get quite competitive, the workers might be rewarded for their efforts with supper, dancing and singing.

It was during the early part of the evening that St. Nicholas (impersonated by a man dressed in Episcopal garb) would make his appearance, to find out exactly how the children were behaving.

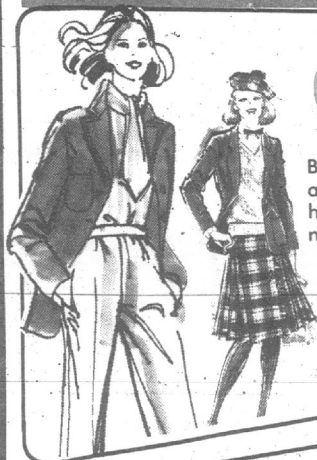

He would be accompanied by Black Peter, an erstwhile devil, who over the centuries had lost much of his ominous character and became a jolly, though still somewhat frightening, figure.

Black Peter's job was to carry St. Nicholas' bag of gifts. However, lest his former character be completely forgotten, Black Peter (whose part in New Netherland, would have been played by a black child) also toted a rod—presumably to punish miscreants—and his sack full of presents could, when emptied, be turned to the less cheerful purpose of carrying

THE SAINT NICHOLAS COOKIE—a holiday tradition from the 18th century which is followed today at Philipsburg Manor in North Tarrytown, New York.

I'm definitely not the first to say it, nor will I be the last. Surely, one of the most satisfying answers to holiday giving is... food! Of course, you expected me to say that, didn't you?

Just look at all the things we're doing around the holidays! There are parties and gatherings of all kinds—many of them in private homes. This means hosts and hostesses abound—and everywhere there is—food.

A gift of food lets you contribute either to the event itself or to the host's post-party relaxation after the guests have left and the pace has slowed.

While usually greatly appreciated, let's face it, food gifts don't last. If you're like me and prefer to have a more enduring—if not endearing—aspect to your gifts, do as I do—“wrap” your food gifts in yet another gift of appropriate cookware.

It need not be expensive—just something functional that will be used again—and again after the initial contents are long gone.

So, for this holiday season column, I'm offering no full-blown recipes to arouse your gastric juices. Instead, I want to get your creative juices flowing by dashing off some basic ideas I've used in the past. What you do to embellish them will provide your own personal touch to each gift.

Ring in the holidays

What could be more appropriate than a ring mold creation to ring in the holidays? While a homemade fruit cake is probably your first thought, consider these alternatives. Start by arranging a variety of appropriate fruits in a decorative pattern in an oven-safe glass ring mold.

Then, go in any of three (or more) directions: Use gelatin to form an attractive dessert or salad; add water and freeze for an attractive holiday punch bowl ice ring; or—and I like this one best—take a cue from your host or hostess and add appropriate spices to produce a fruit ring that, when heated briefly in an oven (conventional or microwave), will provide a nice complement to a meat or poultry main dish.

I'll even toss in a non-food ring mold idea. Just array seasonal greens and pine cones in the ring mold, sprinkle with just a bit of water (to keep them fresh), cover with a large clear glass oven-safe serving platter, and turn the whole thing upside down. Voila! A holiday wreath-under-glass centerpiece.

I've been known to insert a pretty candle in the center of the ring mold—but take care to blow the candle out if it burns down near the ring mold itself.

While I'm on candles, they also make excellent party gifts because they serve as air fresheners—especially in enclosed rooms occupied by smokers.

A glass Hurricane candle makes an excellent, functional holiday hostess gift when it contains a festive pillar or dressy taper candle; the only wrapping needed is a pretty bow.

When the party's over...

Here's another gift that holiday hosts will thank you for when the party's over and the guests have left. I've even gotten calls weeks later thanking me for this one.

Whip up several of your favorite one-dish meals in individual-sized portions—Grab-It bowls or Sidekick or Casser-ette dishes are the perfect containers. Freeze them, then wrap simply with a bow.

Your recipient can pop them in the freezer and be assured of an evening or more of no-cook meals... to say nothing of those oh-so-versatile little dishes.

Be sure you tell your host the gift is perishable so it will be promptly and properly stored. Label each gift with contents and re-heating instructions.

Replenish the extract

This one's for those who just couldn't bear it if I went through a whole column without at least a hint of a recipe.

Cooks use a lot of vanilla extract around the holidays.

Here's a fun gift that thoughtfully provides a renewable—and renewable—supply of vanilla extract. Its beauty is its simplicity.

Just cut vanilla beans (one ounce or about six beans should do) lengthwise into four pieces each. Combine them in a one-pint Store 'N' See container with one cup of brandy.

Shake well and let it start aging. In about six months, your recipient will have a new supply of vanilla extract.

Provide instructions to either drain the extract and reuse the beans or just leave them in the mixture and simply add more brandy as the extract is used.

off any children who might misbehave.

The arrival of St. Nicholas would be announced by a shower of confections and other goodies, to the delight of the expectant children, and would be completed by a period during which St. Nicholas would ask questions of the children, who never failed to be surprised—or impressed—by the amount of information the mysterious St. Nicholas knew about them.

Once St. Nicholas had departed, and the children had left their offerings for his trusty steed, they would be off to bed, and the adults could exchange gifts with each other.

Before they called it a night, they would sit down to enjoy such treats as St. Nicholas bread and St. Nicholas cake, and a dishful of hot chestnuts. Accompanying the edibles would be hot tea and punch.

Traditional St. Nicholas Day decorations include a dish containing three oranges, which symbolizes the three golden dowries St. Nicholas provided for three sisters who had been left dowryless.

Another tradition was the St. Nicholas cookie, a large, detailed portrait of the saint.

Traditional foods include marzipan, ginger spice cookies, glazed fruit and speculaas.

If you can get there to enjoy the festivities at first hand, you will be given a warm welcome and invited to join in the fun.

If not, why not begin a new "old" tradition in your own home, by instituting your own St. Nicholas Day celebration? It's one your family and friends will be sure to enjoy.

SPECULAAS

- 4 cups sifted flour
- 2 tps. baking powder
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 tsp. ground coriander
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. ground cloves
- 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
- 1/4 tsp. cardamom
- 1 egg
- 2 tps. vanilla
- 3 tps. milk
- 1/4 cup margarine
- 1/2 cup ground almonds or hazelnuts

Sift flour and baking powder into bowl.

Make a well in the center, add sugar, spices, egg, vanilla, and milk.

Work together to form a heavy paste.

Dice margarine and add with nuts to paste. Stir to blend.

Add more flour if necessary to make a manageable dough. Chill in bowl for two hours.

Turn onto lightly floured board. Roll to 1/8" thickness. Place in mold or cut in squares or fancy shapes.

Bake in hot oven 400°, 7-8 minutes.

MARZIPAN

- 1 cup almond paste (see below)
- 1 egg white
- 1 cup confectioner's sugar
- Few drops of rose water or orange-flower water or lemon juice

Mash paste until slightly softened.

Beat egg white until fluffy and blend in.

Add sugar and flavoring and mix in until smooth enough to handle, adding more sugar if mixture is too sticky, or lemon juice if it crumbles.

Knead for a minute or two until smooth and then shape as desired.

Almond Paste

- 2 cups blanched almonds
- 2 cups sugar

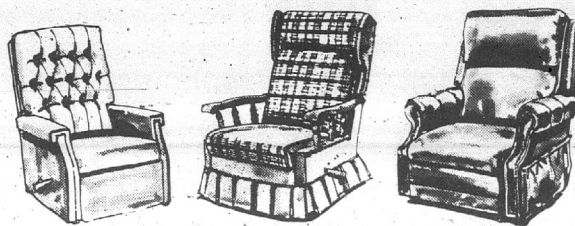

Grind almonds 4 or 5 times through the finest blade of the food chopper, until they are absolutely smooth.

Work in sugar and store in airtight container.

Use mixture to fill pastry or candies or to make marzipan. Makes about 1 pound.

Literature of Christmas Enhances Enjoyment of the Holiday Season

Just as music and decorations add to the merriment of the holiday season, so the literature of Christmas enriches its meaning for all of us.

Fortunately for readers, Christmas has inspired many a wonderful poem or story.

Perhaps the most famous story of all is A Christmas Carol written by England's Charles Dickens in 1843. Is there anyone among us who has not been fascinated by Old Scrooge and his miserly ways... or been touched by the pathetic figure of Tiny Tim? This beloved tale has inspired plays, musicals and motion pic-

How to throw a holiday party — on the cheap!

You don't have to invite 50 people to a sit-down feast for a smash of a bash this season.

Glamour magazine suggests you try a fabulous finger-food buffet, a late-night dessert extravaganza or an informal brunch to save time and money.

• For your finger-food cocktail-party, put away those old Swedish meatball recipes and try Beef Skewers with Dipping Sauce and Crispy Ham Triangles.

BEEF SKEWERS WITH DIPPING SAUCE

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1/2 c. coarsely chopped parsley
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 tsp. cumin seed
- 1/4 tsp. ground nutmeg
- 1/4 tsp. ground clove
- 1/4 c. salad oil
- 2 6-oz. jars mild taco sauce

Combine beef with parsley and remaining ingredients except oil and taco sauce.

Use food processor or meat grinder to make a smooth paste.

With wet hands, shape about 2 T. of beef mixture around a 10" wooden skewer.

Brush with oil and broil skewers 2-3 minutes, turning frequently.

(To keep warm while broiling remainder, arrange in baking pan, cover and place in 250° F. oven.)

Heat taco sauce and serve as dip for skewers.
Makes about 40.

HAM TRIANGLES

- 1/4 lb. ham, minced
- 4 oz. Gruyere or Swiss cheese, shredded
- 1/2 c. chutney, chopped
- 1 T. dry mustard
- 1/2 lb. phyllo dough (strudel leaves)
- 1/2 c. unsalted butter, melted

Combine ham with cheese, chutney and mustard; set aside.

Cut phyllo dough lengthwise into 2"-wide strips. (When working with phyllo, keep it covered with damp towel to prevent its drying out.)

Brush one strip phyllo lightly with butter.

Place about a teaspoonful of filling at end of strip.

Fold corner of strip diagonally over filling so that short end meets long edge of strip, forming a right-angle triangle.

Continue folding over at right angles until you reach end of strip.

Place triangle, seam-side down, on jellyroll pan; brush with butter.

Repeat, using remaining filling and dough. Do not crowd pan. (Can be made ahead to this point. Wrap well and freeze.)

Preheat oven to 425° F. Bake 5-10 minutes or until golden.

Serve hot.
Makes 5 dozen.

To bake frozen: Bake in preheated 425° F. oven 10-15 minutes.

• Delicious desserts—dramatic and daring! First, there's a candlelight. Then there's a dessert buffet so special it'll be well worth waiting for.

Invite your guests for 9 PM and watch those wonderful Meringue Mushrooms disappear!

GINGERED FRUIT COMPOTE

Mince enough ginger from 1 jar preserved ginger in syrup to make 4 tsp.

In bowl, combine 6 T. lime juice, 1/4 tsp. salt, minced ginger and 6 T. syrup from ginger.

Peel and slice 2 papayas. Wash and hull 1 pint strawberries.

Combine syrup with fruit; cover and refrigerate until ready to serve.

tures, not to mention generations of readers!

English poets, too, have been inspired by the nativity or its celebration. Tennyson, Elizabeth Barrett Browning, and John Milton are among those whose poetry sings of the season.

Here in America, the most famous Christmas poem of all was written for the entertainment of some youngsters, the children of Dr. Clement Clarke Moore, a professor of divinity.

In this poem, entitled the Visit of St. Nicholas, Dr. Moore described the activities of Santa Claus on Christmas Eve and old Santa himself. Today, our conception of Santa is derived to a great extent from his description: "His eyes, how they twinkled! his dimples, how merry! . . . He had a broad face and a little round belly, that shook when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly." With such a delightful portrait, no wonder youngsters and adults alike took Dr. Moore's poem to heart.

Marmee's Girls

In her popular novel, Little Women, Louisa May Alcott gave us a charming glimpse of Christmas among impoverished but genteel society. The March girls—Jo, Amy, Beth and Meg—have pitiful funds, yet they conspire to shower their beloved "Marmee" with thoughtful little gifts: slippers, a hankie, cologne and gloves. She in turn, is only able to give each of her girls a small book. Yet, the reader basks in the warmth that these beloved characters evoke.

Denmark's Hans Christian Andersen has written several tales with Christmas themes and they are justifiably cherished in world literature. Who can forget the story of The Little Match Girl . . . or The Little Fir Tree? Each story has that ability to touch our heartstrings, no matter how often read.

In more modern times, another American, William Sidney Porter, was to pen a classic story that has come to epitomize the spirit of Christmas itself: The Gift of the Magi. Writing under the name of O. Henry, Porter told the bitter-sweet tale of a young couple, Della and Jim. Although lacking in material goods, they have an abundance of that most precious gift of all, the gift of love.

Famed Editorial

Not all the literature of Christmas is to be found in stories or poems. An editorial, written to a young inquirer is probably one of the best-known "works" that is quoted each holiday season. When an editor of the New York Sun published his answer to Virginia O'Hanlon on September 21, 1897, he laid to rest once and for all the question, "Is there a Santa Claus?" That editorial has been reprinted countless times since then, and it never fails to inspire.

St. Matthew wrote the first account of the Wise Men bringing their gifts to the Infant; St. Luke first described the astonished shepherds in the field near Bethlehem. Of all those who have written about Christmas, these two authors must surely be the most widely read of all!

Focus on Christmas Season

Christmas is one of the most memorable celebrations of the year. It is also one of the most photogenic and Christmas photos and slides will be prized for years to come.

Here's a Christmas shooting schedule from the technical staff of Canon U.S.A. They say that almost any camera can document Christmas, but they suggest a 35mm single lens reflex such as the new AE-1 Program. It automatically selects both the shutter-speed and lens opening, an arrangement that is ideal for quick candid shooting and that's what you'll be doing most of.

The Canon experts suggest you start several days before Christmas Day. Accompany another member of the family on a Christmas gift shopping expedition. A good shot would be Mom or Dad coming out of a store with a stack of presents. Get some shots of store decorations.

Take A Camera

When it comes time to buy the tree, take your camera. Trimming the tree can be good for a couple of rolls of film by itself. And then you'll want to shoot it at night with its lights on and the room lights off. That's when a Christmas tree is at its magical best.

You'll need to make a fairly long exposure to pick up the relatively dim tree lights and to give them a chance to illuminate the branches a little. Use ASA 400 film, a tripod and cable release, with the lens set at f/8 expose for 1/2 second and then from one to eight seconds in one second intervals. One shot should be right.

Other shots you can make are of the gifts being wrapped. Christmas cookie baking, caroling and partying. Make sure you get a picture of the wrapped presents at the base of the tree.

When the wrappings come off on Christmas morning, be ready with your camera—particularly if there are kids in the house. There's nothing quite like the smiles, grins and wide-eyed looks of delighted surprise that accompany the opening of particularly appreciated presents.

Again if there are kids, get some shots of them playing with their new toys. Your last big shooting spree is most likely to be Christmas dinner, both during its preparation and during dinner itself. If you have a camera with a self-timer, get yourself into the picture.

Tradition of kissing under the mistletoe is of Druidic origin

The quaint and agreeable custom of kissing under the mistletoe has its origins in ancient Celtic tradition.

In ancient Britain, mistletoe was regarded by the Druids as a sacred and mysterious plant. It was the symbol of life and the sun, protector against disease, and, some believed, an aphrodisiac.

Each year at the winter solstice, the Arch Druid and his fellow priests would perform elaborate rites which centered around the mistletoe.

These forest worshippers would gather in the woods to seek out the oak tree upon which grew the most mistletoe. Clad in white robes, the Arch Druid climbed the tree until he reached a bough laden with the semi-parasitic plant.

He next cut the plant with a golden sickle, being careful not to let the sacred branch fall to the ground.

Some legends have it that he caught the branch in his flowing white robes; others hold that it was caught by virgins holding a white cloth at the base of the tree.

With great celebration, and prayer to the gods, the branch was divided among the Druids as a symbol of peace and prosperity. The people then took the mistletoe home to hang over their doors, as it was believed to ward off evil spirits and to ensure fertility.

It is not clear how the actual custom of kissing under the mistletoe evolved, although it is believed to have stemmed from the Druids' belief in its powers of fertility.

According to tradition, each time a young maiden happens beneath the mistletoe whether it's suspended from a chandelier or hanging in a doorway, a lad may claim a kiss from her.

For each kiss claimed, a berry is picked off the plant and given to the maid; once all the berries are plucked, there is no more kissing. And, the hapless young maid who receives neither kiss nor berry will not marry that year.

Use caution with Christmas lights and have a safe, beautiful holiday

Be careful when using Christmas lights. They are one of the leading causes of home fires during the holiday season.

When using outdoor wires, be sure they are both waterproof and UL (Underwriters Laboratories) approved.

This will ensure that the wires are properly grounded and are resistant to changes in weather.

Indoor wires may be a lighter gauge than outdoor wires. Again, be sure they are UL approved.

If you find left-over indoor wires, do not use them for outdoor purposes. They are not waterproof and could lead to a fire.

In both cases, do not overload electrical sockets with inputs. This can cause wires to overheat and melt their wrappers. It can also lead to an inside wall fire if the socket is of a lesser maximum voltage capacity.

Lights add beauty and create a warm atmosphere during the holiday season. Use them wisely.

Partridge for dinner

For a truly fitting and unique dining experience this Christmas, make way for the partridge, the fowl that Webster defines as a, "stout bodied Old World gallineous game bird with variegated plumage."

The only problem is, that while there are many types of partridges, the partridge does not exist.

Those birds that we generically call partridges, possessing short legs and neck, and short wings and tail, defy definition, and embody more of a poetic concept.

The "true" partridge was introduced into France by Rene, King of Naples, and in French is called the perdrix—an adult partridge. A young partridge killed the year of its hatching is perdreau.

The partridge is an international bird, but seems to be most popular in France, where it is cooked with cabbage and other vegetables.

When it is prepared as such it is called Perdrix aux Choux.

It may also be prepared in its more aristocratic form as the sublime Perdrix en Chausse (partridge and cabbage in a decorative mold).

These two methods are the only instances when an older bird is preferable to the perdreau. The reason for this is that an old bird, because it can be cooked longer, imparts more flavor to the cabbage than a young one, which should not be cooked for more than 15 minutes. Unfortunately, the cabbage absorbs most of the flavor of the perdrix, leaving it bland.

The solution is to roast a perdreau apart from the main dish, substituting it for the perdrix during the last five minutes of cooking.

If possible, this is the ideal way to prepare the partridge and cabbage meal. However, you may still be satisfied with just the perdrix, if you can't afford both birds.

In either event, if you're willing to follow the French prescription for partridge, this year's Christmas dinner may be a real tour de force.

That's right Amana, is in hot water with its cooling and heating dealers. But we don't mind. That's because the hot water we're in is hot water you can use: The Amana HTM Plus™ Heat 'n Hot Water System.

It's a revolutionary new concept in home comfort systems: a system that not only heats the house, it heats household water. It does it with a water heater unlike any you've ever seen. A 40 gallon heater with first hour ratings comparable to 75 or 100 gallon heaters. Designed without a flue and with high density foam insulation to reduce standby heat loss to 1/5 that of conventional gas-fired water heaters.

The heart of the system is the proven Amana Heat Transfer Module (HTM®). It's a compact outdoor heat exchanger that earned Amana electric/gas units the highest government energy efficiency rating in six different size categories of gas furnaces.

The result is a system that saves 15% to 23% on space heating costs compared to Amana upflow standing pilot furnaces. And a water heater that could fire up to 14,500 fewer times than a conventional gas water heater over a ten year period.

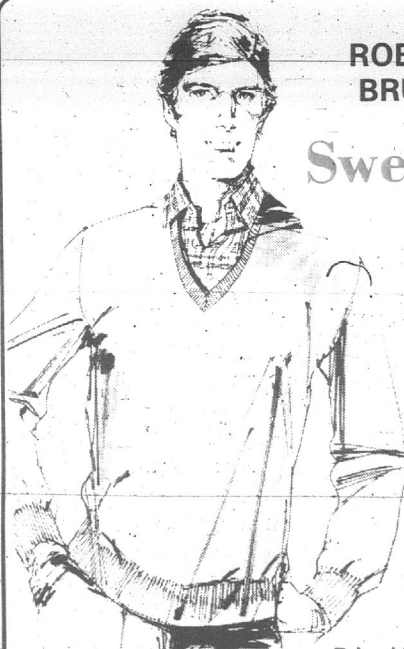

Find out more about the Amana HTM Plus Heat 'n Hot Water System. We'd like you to be in hot water with us.

A Visit from St. Nicholas

by Dr. Clement C. Moore

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house,
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there.

When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
To open the shutters and throw up the sash.

With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name.

Chanukah: a time for joy

①The Jewish Festival of Chanukah, which lasts for eight days, begins this year on December 21st. Although it is not a holiday of major significance in the Jewish festival calendar, it is the Jewish contribution to a season recognized almost everywhere as a time for affirmation and joy.

For Judith Zimmerman, an educator and activist in the Jewish community as well as the community at large, Chanukah celebrates the freedom of Jews to be themselves, to maintain their beliefs and traditions within the context of a wider culture.

Historically, Chanukah celebrates the victory of the Maccabees, a Hebrew family who led a small group of the faithful, over the Greco-Syrians who occupied and desecrated the Temple in Jerusalem in 165 B.C.

But, according to Judy Zimmerman, the symbolic importance of the festival is more than military; it is the triumph of light over darkness.

In later legends, it is said that when the Maccabees entered the Temple, there was only enough oil to last one night—not nearly enough time to repair the damage and reconsecrate the holy place.

And then, a miracle occurred. The small amount of oil lasted a full eight days. Today, in Jewish homes all over the world, the menorah, a candelabrum with nine branches (one for each night of the holiday, plus a ninth candle with which to light the others), is lit every night of the festival to commemorate those wondrous days of old.

Each evening, a new candle is placed in the menorah to represent the addition of light. The candle for the new day is lit first as each day brings new light into the world.

Surrounding the solemn and meaningful experience of the family lighting the menorah, is the hustle and bustle of a holiday of joy.

In the Zimmerman household (Judy's husband is Rabbi Sheldon Zimmerman of Central Synagogue in New York City), the children decorate the hall and dining room with pictures of the Maccabean heroes, menorahs, and signs wishing all a happy Chanukah.

Each member of the family has a special menorah, and there is a large family menorah as well. As evening falls, their home is ablaze with the light and warmth of candles.

Gifts are exchanged within the family, and all guests at the table find a small Chanukah present along with a menorah awaiting them.

The evening is punctuated by the music of Chanukah songs, such as the Hebrew version of "Rock of Ages" which acknowledges God's aid and presence in times of struggle and times of peace.

The Zimmermans enjoy sharing this time of warmth, light and closeness with others. Judy Zimmerman's skill in the kitchen is on a par with the rest of her considerable achievements and she chooses to prepare potato pancakes (latkes) as the symbol of the holiday.

Both latkes, of Eastern European derivation, and jelly doughnuts, primarily served in Israel, are traditional dishes. Their connection with Chanukah is that they are fried in oil.

Here is Judy's recipe for Potato Latkes.

POTATO LATKES

- 4-5 large potatoes, cleaned and unpeeled
- 2 eggs
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 Dash pepper
- 3 Tbl. flour, or more if needed
- 1 small grated onion
- 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 1 Dash cinnamon
- Oil for frying

In blender, grate onion and add eggs.

Add potatoes in chunks while still blending.

Drain half the excess liquid. Add all the other ingredients and blend just to mix.

If mixture is too watery (it should mound nicely in a spoon), add more flour by the tablespoonfuls onto hot well-greased frying pan and brown on both sides.

(Keep latkes already fried in a low oven.)

Accompany with a choice of sour cream or applesauce. Serves 5-6.

Popcorn balls and wreaths serve as decorations and tastes treats

Delicious to eat—pretty to look at—and best of all, fast to fix. That's the kind of holiday recipe ideas most homemakers look for during the year's busiest season.

"With a microwave oven, just about everything can be made more easily and quickly," say home economists from Whirlpool Corporation.

Here's an especially attractive and delicious holiday treat recipe they offer for a Christmas wreath and surprise popcorn balls.

"A POPCORN WREATH AND SURPRISE POPCORN BALLS make an easy and delicious treat for holiday visitors," say home economists from Whirlpool Corporation.

POPCORN WREATHS

- 8 cups popped corn
- 1 cup "M & M's" Chocolate Candies
- 1 cup Spanish peanuts
- 1 cup colored miniature marshmallows

SYRUP

- 3/4 cup granulated sugar
- 3/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup light corn syrup
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 tsp. white vinegar
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 3/4 cup butter

Measure popcorn into a large bowl. In an 8-cup measure, combine ingredients for the syrup except butter.

Microwave 12-13 minutes at HIGH stirring every 3 minutes. Cook until small amount of mixture dropped into cold water forms a hard ball, or 260°F with a candy thermometer.

Add butter and mix well. Pour syrup in a thin stream over popcorn stirring until all kernels are well coated.

Add "M & M's" Chocolate Candies, peanuts and marshmallows. Mix well.

Pack into a well greased ring mold. Cool.

Unmold on serving plate. Decorate with a bow for a lovely centerpiece.

For serving, simply cut neat slices with a sharp serrated knife.

SURPRISE POPCORN BALLS

Using same recipe, form popcorn balls into a 3- or 4-inch round.

When cool, wrap in plastic wrap, tie with a ribbon and hang on the tree for pretty tree decorations and handy treats for visiting youngsters.

Makes one dozen.

The children were nestled,
all snug in their beds;
While visions of sugarplums danced in their heads;
And Mamma in her kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap.

The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow Gave a lustre of mid-day to objects below,
When, what to my wondering eyes did appear, But a miniature sleigh, and eight tiny reindeer.

He was chubby and

plump, a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself;
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.

He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.

He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle.
But I heard him exclaim ere he drove out of sight,
"Happy Christmas to all
... and to all a goodnight!"

And then, in a twinkling, I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.

As I drew in my head, and was turning around,
Down the chimney St.
Nicholas came with a bound.

He was dressed all in fur,
from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot;
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.

His eyes, how they twinkled! his dimples, how merry!
His cheeks were like roses,
his nose like a cherry!
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow.

The stump of a pipe he held tight to his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath;
He had a broad face and a little round belly,
That shook when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly.
